VOL. LXXVIII—No. 77 CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 18, 1949. PRICE FIVE CENTS

Gets 25 Years for Treason

Former Air Force Lieutenant Martin Monti (center), 27, pleaded guilty to treason charges and was sentenced to 25 years in prison. He was charged with deserting his post in Karachi, India, of hitch-hiking to Italy, of stealing a reconnaissance plane, flying it to a German-held base near Milan, and subsequently of having broadcast propaganda for the Germans. Here he is flanked by U. S. marshals as he arrives at Brooklyn, N. Y., Federal Court for the trial.

Democrats Get Blame for Mental Hospitals Mess

C.O.P. Says 'Scandalous' Conditions Have Been Remedied; Hospitals Among Best Now

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—Another round in the legislative postwar war fund-mimeograph machine battle today found the Republicans defending mental hygiene department appropriations of $82,785,450.

A new Democratic paper barrage found the minority party demanding an accounting of the income from state-constructed emergency veterans' housing. Democrats charge "the people have been short-changed" in the spending of the $697,300,000 postwar fund.

The war of nerves—and figures—brought an angry outburst in the Assembly from Irwin Stelg, Democratic leader.

Said Stelg:

"We don't intend to submit to this brand new Republican technique. This is deceptive. They're just going to give us a list of figures. No one is going to pay attention to them."

He made his statement as Malcolm Wilson, Yonkers Republican, read from a lengthy accounting of proposed Mental Hygiene Department appropriations.

In demanding the accounting of income from veterans' housing, voiced under the names of Stelg and Elmer F. Quinn, Democratic Senate leader, the minority party asked "where has the income of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 gone?"

The new Republican accounting cited that $82,785,450 had been appropriated from the postwar fund for mental hygiene, of which $6,802,495 had been expended through December 31.

The report said another $1,813,224 had been placed under contract and that $74,169,731 would be utilized "just as soon as it is possible to obtain contracts and

Four Die in Fire

Two Others of Family of Seven Burned Seriously

Windber, Pa., Jan. 18 (AP)—Four members of a family of seven perished today in the flames of their one-room home, and one-half mile west of Caledonia in Somerset county. Two others were seriously burned.

Only one in the family escaped injury—a 15-month-old baby boy, Lawrence Snyder, 40, coal miner, and a daughter, Gertrude, 12, were taken to a Windber hospital. The girl's condition was reported as critical and the father's as fair.

Dead were the mother, Mrs. Anna Reiss Snyder, 29, and her daughters, Nancy Janet, 5; Elizabeth June, 7; and Charlotte, 9.

The charred bodies of Mrs. Snyder and Nancy and Elizabeth were found on the floor of the house. Charlotte died of burns in the Windber hospital.

The baby, John, suffered no injuries but no one was able to explain how he escaped.

Local Units, New Paltz and Bard Colleges Got State Help

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The first 1949 Dewey program bill, a proposal for a $300,000,000 bond issue for slum clearance and public housing, today headed toward Senate approval.

Republican majority leaders gave the measure the right of way after it was reported favorably by the Senate Finance Committee.

Senate Minority Leader Elmer F. Quinn said Democrats would support the measure, proposed by Governor Dewey in his annual message to the Legislature two weeks ago. It is one of the planks of the Democratic legislative program.

Bi-partisan agreement on the housing proposal was the only indication of peace on Capitol Hill as opposing parties otherwise cleared the decks for further action.

Highlights included:

- 1—Renewed Republican-Democratic controversy over expenditure of the $697,300,000 postwar reconstruction fund by the Dewey administration.
- 2—A declaration of "no compromise" by the Board of Regents which seeks to retain control of 31 state-aided colleges and to obtain $41,000,000 more in state aid than the $40,000,000 increase already mandated by law.
- 3—Recommendation by the temporary State Fair Commission for establishment of a year-round fair at Mattydale, near Syracuse, at a cost of $52,000,000.
- 4—The $300,000,000 housing proposal, if approved by the Legislature as expected, will appear on the ballot next November.
- 5—It would be the third housing bond issue put before the voters and would bring the state's total for slum clearance and low-rent housing to $735,000,000.
- 6—The people approved a $300,000,000 bond issue in 1938 and an additional $135,000,000 in 1947, all of which has been spent or committed.

Introduced in Houses

The administration measure was introduced in the Senate last week by Senator Paul A. Fino, Bronx Republican. A companion bill was introduced in the Assembly by Mrs. Maude E. Ten Eyck of New York city.

Renewal of the partisan dispute over the state's postwar reconstruction fund came in heated debate last night in both the Senate and Assembly.

Republican leaders in both Houses read a 17-page report, prepared by Budget Director John E. Burton, listing appropriations of $69,800,000 for construction of veterans' homes and college dormitories. The report said $63,200,000 of that amount had been transferred to the emergency housing fund as of December 31.

It listed 56 college projects and 57 state projects undertaken in the state with the $69,800,000 appropriated for housing.

Area Benefits

New Paltz State Teachers College received an allocation of $71,200 for an on-campus dormitory capacity for 100 men in residence and 50 men in residences, including miscellaneous facilities.

Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson was allocated $36,996 for on-campus dormitory capacity for 20 men, site preparation for E. P. H. A. dwelling units including roads, water, sewer, etc.

City of Kingston was allocated $274,700 for construction of 52 dwelling units on Charlotte street.

Republicans said they offered the report as a partial answer to Democratic demands for a "full accounting" of the postwar fund. They promised more information later.

In a statement accompanying the report, Republican leaders said: "It is a record that completely destroys the reckless political charges made by the Democratic minority leaders in the Legislature... that the people of this state have been 'short-changed' and that the reconstruction fund is a 'huge slush fund.'"

Wicks Praises Record

Referring to the report, Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, called it "a brilliant record of accomplishments, second to none in the nation, in service to veterans. It is a record that completely destroys the reckless political charges made by the Democratic minority leaders in the Legislature, and their boss, the Democratic state chairman, that the people of this state have been 'short-changed,' that

Red Trial Objections Overruled

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina ruled today the trial of 11 top-ranking Communist officials should proceed without William Z. Foster, the national head of their party, who is ill.

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—The second day of the history-making trial of 12 top Communist leaders began today with overruling of new defense objections to policemen detailed around the U. S. courthouse.

One defense attorney asserted "the same state of armed siege which existed yesterday exists today."

However, Federal Judge Harold R. Medina overruled two defense motions concerning the police, commenting "what precautions are taken seem to me to be entirely proper."

The Communist Party officials are being tried on charges that they worked for forcible overthrow of the government.

A detail of 400 policemen was on hand when the trial opened yesterday to guard against possible demonstrations. Officials at first said the number was cut sharply today but Assistant Chief Police Inspector Frank Frisken later announced today's detail was about as large as yesterday's.

Louis F. McCabe of Philadelphia, one of the defense lawyers, declared members of the jury panel were confronted by a display of "armed force" as they entered the courthouse in lower Manhattan and thus were affected "in their minds."

Judge Medina replied that "I found when I went to lunch yesterday that I was grateful that I had a little assistance to get through the crowd."

"I don't intend to fight my way through a crowd of boogie and hissing individuals without proper protection."

The overruled motions called for exclusion of police from the courthouse and for an inquiry into alleged use of a courthouse room as a police headquarters.

William Z. Foster, Communist national chairman and one of the defendants, again was absent from the courtroom today. He has a heart ailment.

An issue left unsettled amid protracted legal skirmishing yesterday was whether the trial could proceed without him.

At yesterday's session, defense attorneys were turned down in a long series of delaying moves.

S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery moved for immediate trial of 11 men with a separate trial later for the 67-year-old Foster.

$417,595 Comes To Ulster County For Its Schools

Ulster county has received from the New York State Education Department, $417,595, estimated one-quarter of the total apportionment of public school money to be paid to Ulster county school districts in the school year 1948-49.

Announcement to this effect was made by Jay W. Rifenburg, Ulster county treasurer, who said that it would be distributed as follows:

City of Kingston, $140,591; School District No. 10, Village of Saugerties, $27,295; towns of First Supervisory District, $33,385; towns of Second Supervisory District, $124,455; towns of Third Supervisory District, $78,690; towns of Fourth Supervisory District, $13,175.

Esopus Rector Is Appointed To Higher Position in Rome

The Rev. Edward A. Wuenschel, C.S.S.R., rector of Mount St. Alphonse Seminary in Esopus, has been appointed director of the Institute of Higher Studies of the Redemptorist Fathers in Rome, Italy, according to word received on Monday, from the Most Rev. Leonard Buys, Superior General of the Order. He will be succeeded as rector of the seminary, which gains priests for the Catholic ministry in the eastern United States, the West Indies, Brazil and Paraguay, by the Rev. William Greene, C.S.S.R., previously resident in Brooklyn.

Father Wuenschel has been professor of Dogmatic Theology at the Seminary in Esopus, for eighteen years prior to his designation as rector, in August, 1947.

Born in Erie, Pa., in 1898, he was educated in parochial schools of that city, and after spending six years at the Redemptorist Preparatory, in North East, Pa., he entered the Novitiate of the Order in Ithaca, Md., and pronounced his vows of religion in 1919. He completed his theological studies,

Verdict of $58,075 Awarded Woman

Mrs. Christene Roosa to Get Amount; Husband Died of Injuries

A verdict totaling $58,075 was awarded last night to Mrs. Christene Roosa of Taylor street, Kingston, in her action against Samuel Silberman of White Lake and Ralph Hinderstein of Catskill for the death of her husband who died as a result of an accident about a year ago on the Saugerties road. The case was tried before Justice Harry E. Schirick in Supreme Court.

Peter S. Roosa was operating his Chevrolet car north on the Saugerties road last February. A truck operated by Silberman was proceeding southerly as was the passenger car of Mr. Hinderstein. On an icy strip of road the truck and car of Hinderstein met difficulty and the truck and the Chevrolet of Roosa collided. Plaintiff alleged negligent operation of the truck and the Hinderstein car. Mr. Roosa was badly injured and died that day.

Mrs. Roosa brought an action to recover $200,000 for the death of her husband, $20,000 for pain and suffering prior to his death and $1,000 for damage to the car, a total of $221,000.

The jury at an evening session returned a verdict at about 8:30 o'clock in the sum of $55,000 for the loss of life, $2,500 for the pain and suffering and $750 for damage to the Roosa car. In returning its verdict the jury found equally against both defendants.

Motions were made by defense counsel to set aside the verdict and decision was reserved.

Have Is Counsel

N. LeVan Haver appeared for the plaintiff. Paul Roemer, owner of the truck, was not served and was not a party defendant, the action being brought against the driver and Mr. Hinderstein. Mr. Hinderstein was represented by Stanley Johnson of Newburgh.

The jury which heard the case was the first jury to receive the newly authorized "evening pay"

New York Concern Will Dismantle Vessels in Creek

Wadsworth Corporation Buys Storm King Steel; Will Bring in More Boats

The former Storm King Steel Corp., 180 East Strand is now owned and operated by the Wadsworth Maritime Corp., it was learned today.

Transactions transferring the title were completed late last month and the sole owner of the new concern is Charles L. Montanti of New York who also operates there under the name of the Wadsworth Maritime Corp., a ship salvaging and marine contracting enterprise.

Theodore C. Simon is in charge of production for the concern, which employs 30 men, and DeWitt Quick is the general superintendent.

Two Canadian frigates are being dismantled at the dock and other boats are expected to be brought in later, a spokesman for the concern said yesterday.

The Wadsworth Maritime Corp. has been operating in New York for about six years and the local unit is a virtual branch of the concern.

Work has been started on the stripping of one of the ships and the dismantling of the other is expected to begin soon. The Storm King Steel Corp., carried on similar work at the dock for more than a year.

Enrollment Shows 31,817 Voters in 1948 Elections

Tabulation of the enrollment for the year 1948 has been completed by the Board of Elections and a report submitted to the Secretary of State and to the Board of Supervisors.

The complete tabulation of enrollment shows a total of 31,817 as follows:

Republican 22,925. Democratic 7,613. American Labor 221 and Liberal 38.

This shows an increase of 3,491 over that of the year 1947 and an increase of 2,593 over that of the presidential year of 1944. The number of blank enrollments in the county was 5,299 while in Kingston the blanks numbered 8,036, a total of 13,335 blank enrollments for the year 1948.

The city of Kingston enrollment, excluding blanks, was 6,883. County total excluding blanks 24,934.

The report states that Central Registration was conducted at the Board of Elections office from June 1 to September 20, inclusive, 1948. The number of persons who registered for absentee ballots was 97. During the year 45 voting certificates were issued. These were used mostly in lieu of citizenship papers issued to people going to Canada and other parts of the world. These certificates

Makes Move To Assist Peace Talks

Foreign Secretary Says He Fears Any Debate Might Harm Rhodes Conference

Action Demanded

Churchill Comes Out for Airing of Entire Problem

London, Jan. 18 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said today Britain has "no obligations or intentions to engage in any offensive or aggressive action" in the Middle East war over Palestine.

With this assurance, he asked the House of Commons not to press at this time for a full scale discussion of the labor government's Middle East policy. He said a Palestine debate now might endanger the success of the Jewish-Egyptian peace talks on Rhodes.

Facing critics who demanded a full statement on Britain's role in the Middle East situation, Bevin told the House of Commons:

"I am sure the House will agree with me that any discussion on these problems regarding Palestine and the Middle East may have a disturbing effect."

Bevin said:

"The main objective of all concerned must be to secure a peaceful settlement of the whole Palestine question as soon as possible in the interests of both the contestants and of the stability of the Middle East."

"We think we can best contribute to this at the present stage by postponing discussion until the fighting has ceased. We sincerely trust that this overall truce will be maintained."

Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister and leader of the Conservative opposition, demanded a full debate on Palestine.

"The House must not be prevented from discussing matters of real and burning interest by vague statements of great improvements that are on the way and important delicate discussions that are going on," Churchill said.

Bevin had been expected to make a statement as Parliament convened after a holiday recess during which five Royal Air Force planes were shot down by Israelis over the Egyptian border area.

Bevin's critics accused him of risking war, flouting the United Nations, endangering friendship with the United States and giving Russia a wedge in the Mediterranean.

The government is expected to consent to or be forced into a general debate on its Palestine policy within the first two weeks of the session.

The questions already posed by the M.P.'s for this week include such subjects as:

1. R.A.F. flights over embattled troops in the Egyptian-Palestine border area which resulted in the loss of five British planes 11 days ago.
2. The movement of British troops to the Trans-Jordan port

Alarm Is Sent Out

Milford Girl, 14, Missing; Last Seen While Shopping

Milford, Conn., Jan. 18 (AP)—Police have broadcast a 14-state alarm for Ann Marie Ashton, 14-year-old Milford girl who has been missing since Christmas eve.

Capt. Henry Gallbroner said the girl has not been seen since she disappeared into a shopping crowd that night while in Milford with her father.

Later, the parents found a note at home in which Ann advised them "not to try to find her."

Gallbroner said Ann's father, Thomas Ashton, said he and his wife knew of no reason why she should desire to leave home. The girl was described as five feet, three inches tall, weight 120, has blue eyes, long brown bobbed hair parted in the middle and was wearing green slacks, brown shoes, a blue sweater and a gray overcoat. She had about $10 with her.

Van Duzer Raps Seaway Project As Sheep's Clothing

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The Legislature has been urged to record its disapproval of the proposed $1,000,000,000 St. Lawrence river seaway as "socialistic" and opposed to "private enterprise."

Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer, Middletown Republican, introduced a resolution last night which would memorialize Congress to oppose construction of the joint navigation-power development, recommended by President Truman.

The resolution said the seaway was "merely the sheep's clothing under which the New Deal socialistic wolf plans to erect power plants at the highest costs in American history under typically political control, in competition with private enterprise."

Van Duzer, a frequent critic of Governor Dewey, did not mention Dewey's plan to build, with the Province of Ontario, a separate $400,000,000 St. Lawrence power project near Massena.

Mr. Truman has rejected New York's application to construct the 2,200,000 horsepower power project in the International Rapids section of the river.

The resolution attacked the navigation phase of the project because of what it labeled the "dangers of foreign slave-owning economies of placing their products in competition with America's products which are the fruit of free labor through their access to our inland points of distribution."

The seaway has caused repeated controversy both in the State Legislature and in Congress.

The Assembly has adopted several resolutions opposing it, while the State Senate has not gone on record.

The U. S. Senate defeated it last year, and the House took no action.

Van Duzer's resolution pointed out that New York state's congressmen "have voted against this monstrosity known as the St. Lawrence seaway innumerable times."

The resolution said the U. S. Supreme Court had failed to decide whether Congress, in creating the T.V.A., had exceeded its constitutional powers.

"This same question of constitutionality arises in regard to the erection of the St. Lawrence seaway . . ." the resolution declared.

U. S. army engineers have estimated that the total seaway construction cost would be nearly $1,000,000,000.

Airplane Safety

Greater safety for private airplanes is promised in a new carburetor ice detector. When ice begins to form in the engine fuel induction system, a neon light flashes on the instrument board. This gives the pilot ample warning in time to turn on his pre-heater, and avoid the danger of engine choking and a crash landing.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Jan. 17—The Rev. Oscar Jelsma was moderator for the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Church and congregation Thursday evening in the church hall. The three year term as trustee of Oliver J. Tillson had expired and since he is sending much of the year in the south a letter declined re-nomination. Livingston Rhodes was elected in his place. Edward Krohn, now working nights, resigned and Royal Reed was elected until his term of one year expires. Other trustees whose terms had expired were elected to succeed themselves including Arthur Judge, Harry Thompson and LeRoy Coutant. The report of the church finances was given by Dr. Victor Salvatore who, with Matthew P. Busch, are acting treasurers for the church, succeeding the late Webster Langdon. The report showed a balance of over $200. Mrs. M. P. Busch, reporting for the Sunday school, gave a balance of over $100. Mrs. V. F. Salvatore reported a balance of $95 for the Ladies Aid; Mrs. Bertram Cottine for the Mission Circle with a balance of $55; Mrs. A. W. Lent for the Study Club gave a balance of $60; the Young Women's group, Miss Emily Lent, gave a balance of $30. LeRoy Coutant reported a balance of $55 for the Mens Club. The Westminster Fellowship reported a balance of $29. Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb, benevolence treasurer said that $130 had been the contribution for the year. The deacons had the sum of $3 as their balance. Charles Champlin was re-elected officer. The church budget was placed at $4,600 and the allotment for the church was $1,400 for benevolences. Following the meeting members of the Men's Club served cake and coffee. About 40 persons attended the meeting.

Mrs. Minnie Jackson, Poughkeepsie, is a guest of Mrs. Edison Dimsey, North Road.

Mrs. Elsie Randall, Poughkeepsie, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mrs. Harry Colyer.

Mrs. Florence Pepl and daughter, Briarcliffe, spent a couple days in town and visited her aunt, Mrs. Jesse D. Reese, Kingston.

A son was born Tuesday at the Vassar Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Berens. This is their second son and third child. Mr. Berens is editor of the Highland News. A son also was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lucas of Poughkeepsie. Both were former residents. Mrs. Lucas is the former Miss Janet Finley.

Chapter A, P.E.O., will meet Thursday evening with Mrs. Arthur Clarke when Founder's Day will be observed in charge of Mrs. Perry Wilson.

Mrs. C. Imbrie Richards is a patient at the Vassar Hospital with a broken ankle. She fell last Thursday. Mrs. Richards is the school nurse who formerly served the Town of Lloyd as public health nurse.

Gus Schmidt of West Park also is a patient at the Vassar Hospital. He was injured in a fall last week.

The Lions Club has invited the directors of the Ganse Foundation, Charles L. DuBois, A. W. Lent, and the trustees of the Highland Free Library, C. L. DuBois, G. H. Mackey, A. W. Lent, Miss Eliza Raymond, as their dinner guests, Monday evening at Hotel DiPrima.

School Drive for March of Dimes

Raymond H. Rignall, school chairman for the March of Dimes, Infantile Paralysis drive, January 14 to 31, reports that 700 dime cards are now in the hands of Miss Adiska Conno, chairman of collections at M.J.M. Junior High. Miss Conno, sponsor of a teen-age girl's group called "Future teachers of America" is aiding her in this work by making daily appeals at the school.

Mr. Rignall is urging parents to see that their children bring back their March of Dimes school cards as soon as they can once they are received. High school and public school collections will start within a few days. In Mr. Rignall's plea he said that last summer alone 27,000 victims were struck down and most of them youngsters. It is indeed gratifying that there is such an organization as the March of Dimes to which anyone at all can contribute, especially the youngsters to aid each other. Just one item alone, like the California record polio epidemic last year in which 51 persons were kept alive in March of Dimes respirators at one Los Angeles hospital would bring before the parents the great need of this two-week drive to go over the top, he concluded.

State Fair Group Proposes Affair To Last All Year

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The temporary State Fair Commission recommended to Governor Dewey and the Legislature today the establishment of a year-round state fair to cost $52,000,000.

In a 75-page report of its three-year study, the commission also recommended that the fair be located at the Mattydale army air base site near Syracuse and be known as the Empire State Exposition.

The commission proposed the creation of an independent state exposition public benefit corporation, or an exposition authority, to operate the fair.

It left for final decision by the Legislature the method of financing the proposed exposition, but suggested three alternatives:

1—Issuance of short-term state bonds.

2—State budget appropriation.

3—Issuance of revenue bonds by the corporation or authority.

The state fair was suspended in 1941 but resumed on a drastically curtailed basis last year on its present site in Syracuse.

The commission recommended construction in three phases, the first to cost an estimated $28,000,000.

The commission said that approval of its recommendations for an exposition would not preclude holding a full scale fair at the present site this year, as urged by Governor Dewey.

Establishment of the exposition on a new site was recommended, the report said, because the present acreage does not permit expansion, and because it would cost nearly $3,000,000 to renovate present facilities.

The permanent exposition's principal indoor exhibits would be housed in five major buildings, three of them devoted to agriculture, a theme center, and a trade, transportation and science building.

The commission also recommended a sports arena, a racing plant with grandstand and three tracks, a stadium, a swimming pool and playing fields.

The area required for the exposition would be acquired from the federal government. The Mattydale air base land cost $16,000,000.

Scottie Traveled 100,000 Miles

Jemima—Countess of Darnley, a Scottish terrier, born in Silver Springs, Maryland on November 19, 1934, and registered in the American Kennel Club and at the city hall, Kingston, N. Y., died on January 14, 1949, aged 14 years, one month and 25 days.

Jemima was an active member, No. 16 of the "Tail Waggers' Club" of Washington, D. C., and had travelled nearly 100,000 miles by airplane, automobile, ocean steamer and train. By ocean steamer she crossed the Atlantic to Lisbon, Portugal and continued on to Madrid, Spain by train; besides making the voyage to Panama and to Bermuda.

Jemima travelled to Mexico City, Mexico by train via St. Louis, Missouri and several times from Washington, D. C., to Saratoga Springs, N. Y. She made a round trip by air from Mexico City to New York, and several other ones from Mexico City to Atlantic and Pacific Mexican ports as well as to the Guatemalan border; and across the border into Texas.

Jemima, who liked to ride in an automobile, crossed the continent twice and visited 24 states from California to Florida; and the District of Columbia. While in Madrid, Lisbon and Mexico City her address was the American Embassy. Jemima could perform 16 tricks and although invited to enter in show competition never did. Jemima was a wonderful Scottie and a devoted friend whose owner, who had her for all but four months of her long life, will miss her.

During the ocean crossing in wartime Jemima had a special life preserver for the trip; and for travel by air she had a special parachute that was made for her by her friends at the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas. Fortunately she never had to use either although both had been tested and were quite satisfactory.

Jemima's father was born in Silver Springs, Maryland and the mother at Lander, Wyoming—Captain A. S. Hickey, U.S.N.

Establishment of the exposition on a new site was recommended, the report said, because the present acreage does not permit expansion, and because it would cost nearly $3,000,000 to renovate present facilities.

The permanent exposition's principal indoor exhibits would be housed in five major buildings, three of them devoted to agriculture, a theme center, and a trade, transportation and science building.

The commission also recommended a sports arena, a racing plant with grandstand and three tracks, a stadium, a swimming pool and playing fields.

The area required for the exposition would be acquired from the federal government. The Mattydale air base land cost $16,000,000.

Several centuries before Christ the Greeks experimented with crude hydraulic machinery.

The state fair was suspended in 1941 but resumed on a drastically curtailed basis last year on its present site in Syracuse.

The commission recommended construction in three phases, the first to cost an estimated $28,000,000.

The commission said that approval of its recommendations for an exposition would not preclude holding a full scale fair at the present site this year, as urged by Governor Dewey.

Committed to Hospital

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Skrzypczak, 36, has been committed to Mattewan State Hospital for the criminal insane as a result of the strangling of her two young sons, Daniel, seven, and Joseph, three, who were given sleeping pills and strangled with a scarf October 12. Police said the mother had been depressed over domestic troubles. Mrs. Skrzypczak's commitment was ordered by Justice Paul J. Batt in State Supreme Court yesterday. The mother previously pleaded innocent to a first degree murder charge.

and was ordained priest, at the Seminary in Esopus. After a post-graduate course in the Pontifical Institute "Angelicum" in Rome, where he received his degree as Doctor of Sacred Theology, he returned to Esopus to teach. Father Wuenschel is an international authority on the Holy Shroud of Turin, and has lectured extensively on that and other subjects, through the eastern part of this country, and in Canada. He has also been a frequent contributor to Catholic periodicals. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Catholic Theological Society of America.

Father Wuenschel's successor, Father Greene, is also well known in Kingston and vicinity, for he served as Professor of Canon Law and Moral Theology at the Esopus Seminary from 1926 to 1945, and preached in churches of this vicinity frequently during that time. A native of Boston, Mass., he was trained in the Redemptorist Houses of Study, and was ordained a priest in 1917. He received the degree of Doctor of Canon Law, after his post-graduate studies under the Dominican Fathers, at the "Angelicum" in Rome. In 1945, he was appointed superior of the Redemptorist in eastern United States, and he will retain this post together with his new duties as rector of the seminary.

Communist Leaders Arrive for Trial

Three of the top ranking leaders of the Communist party in the United States have broad smiles as they appear at the Federal Courthouse, New York city, for the opening of their trial. They and the nine others are charged with conspiracy to organize the Communist party of the U. S. for the purpose of advocating the forcible overthrow of the government. Left to right are: Benjamin Davis, New York city councilman; Gus Hall, of Cleveland, Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Communist party; and Henry Winston, Communist party educational chairman. (A.P. the Reconstruction Fund is a "huge slush fund."

"We challenge the Democratic minority leaders publicly to declare which of the veteran projects in the list represent 'slush fund' misappropriations. We demand that they tell the people of the state which of these projects they would have eliminated. If they cannot, then we insist that these irresponsible spokesmen leave the decency and the honesty to admit that they were only playing cheap politics and to apologize for their deception and hypocrisy on the floor of both houses of the Legislature. They owe such an apology to the veterans of this state."

Democratic Senate Leader Quinn said promptly that the report did not answer the questions he had asked.

"New York has spent $195,000,000 for highways. How many hospitals and insane asylums has the state built?" he asked. "What help have you given hard-pressed municipalities?"

Asks for Breakdown
In the Assembly, Minority Leader Irwin Steingut said the Republicans had put their "best foot forward in discussing veterans' housing."

"This is one item in the program that we agree with you on and one thing we were for," he said. "What we want is a breakdown on highways, conservation and other things for which money was spent out of the (postwar) fund."

He said the Republicans should not "try to beg the issue by speaking of veterans' housing."

The "no compromise" stand of the Board of Regents came in a statement from Chancellor William J. Wallin.

Referring to the 1948 law that set up the state university system and directed transfer next April of administrative control of 31 state-supported colleges to the university's trustees, Wallin said:

"The Board of Regents is duty bound, with all the help the Regents can get, to oppose the dual control of education in New York state set up in the existing state university law and to secure an amendment to the law which will restore a real unity of control of education, not the illusory 'supervision' set forth in the law."

"The Board of Regents is unanimous in this. If we do not succeed this year in re-establishing unity and removing the dangers of political control inherent in the new law, I feel sure that we will continue the effort until unity is restored and the schools and colleges of the state are once again free from the danger of political interference."

Legislature Receives Plan To Combat Mental Illness

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Details of Governor Dewey's plan to combat mental illnesses through a multi-million dollar research and training program have been submitted to the Legislature.

Republican Senator Seymour Halpern of Queens introduced a bill last night to create a five-man state mental hygiene commission.

The group would formulate a master plan for the promotion of a state mental health program. The plan would provide for:

1. Recruitment, training and education of professional and allied personnel in the psychiatric field.

2. Development, expansion and coordination of general hospital bed and clinic facilities and outpatient agencies for children and adults.

3. Specialized research activities in conjunction with medical schools, including a new hospital center to be created as part of the projected state university system.

4. Development and coordination of activities of public and private agencies operating on the local community level in health, welfare, penal, judicial and other fields.

5. A state-aided program for expanded facilities in general hospitals, clinics and other out-patient agencies.

Under Halpern's bill, the commission would be headed by the state mental hygiene commissioner, and would include the state commissioners of social welfare, health, correction and education. The commission would continue until March 31, 1954. It would report to the Legislature annually on February 15.

Has Top Priority

Dewey has given the mental hygiene program top priority in his legislative program.

The board of trustees have agreed to utilize the projected university system to train the necessary personnel and provide research centers.

Construction at the state's mental hospitals also have been ordered speeded by the governor, who announced last month that the program would go ahead regardless of inflated costs.

In a statement, Halpern said that "by extending psychiatric facilities to city and county hos-

Radium Bromide Found

New York, Jan. 12 (AP)—Dr. Arthur W. Greenfield, Hackensack, N. J., physician, today reclaimed a box containing radium bromide which his wife left in a taxi last night. The 50 milligrams of radium bromide, valued at $1,250, were forgotten by Mrs. Greenfield last night after she had obtained them at a doctor's office for delivery to her husband. The taxi driver, Gerhardt Fowlschich, turned the wooden box over to police this morning. A police alarm had been sent last night to all cab drivers, warning them not to open the box because the radium derivative could cause severe burns.

What We Did in '48

TO MAKE YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE STILL BETTER

EACH YEAR at this time we like to report to you and all telephone users on what we have accomplished since our last progress report. In many respects the year 1948 was a record-breaking one for our Company—the biggest and busiest in our history.

... It was the biggest year because, for one thing, we added more telephones than ever before.

... It was the busiest year because we handled calls in daily volumes greatly surpassing the record set in 1947.

... It was the year of our greatest expansion, when we invested $172,000,000 to keep pace with the growing demands on telephone service.

... But, best of all, the quality of telephone service continued to improve. As new telephone buildings and equipment are put into use, even better service will come.

We thank you for your understanding and cooperation in 1948. We promise in 1949 to push on toward our goal of providing everyone with telephone service who wants it and making that service better than ever before.

Car Whittemore
President

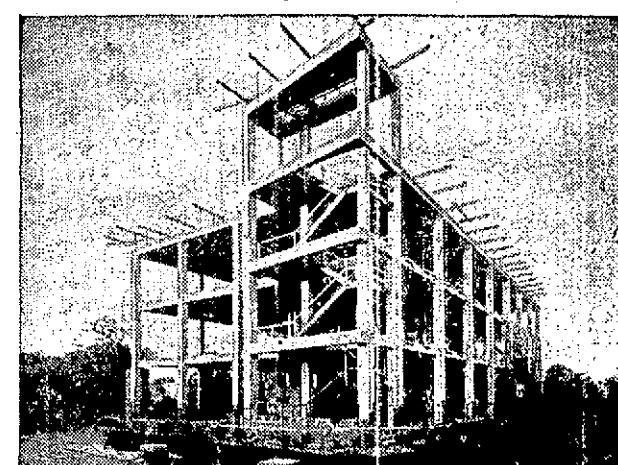

1,800,000 miles of wire in cables placed. The new additions to our network of wires mean more service and better service for everyone. Lead for cable covering remains scarce. However, this shortage was partially overcome by a new type cable in which an aluminum sheath is covered with a tough plastic.

$172,000,000 invested to expand and improve service. Some of this money went for switchboards, which are expensive to build and costly to install. Last year 58 brand-new central offices were established; sizable additions were made to our switchboards in 333 other offices.

491,000 telephones added. That's about 76,000 more than in 1947, the previous record year. Substantial progress was made in clearing up the waiting list during 1948.

Many new buildings erected. To house the additional central office equipment, 36 new buildings and 14 additions to existing buildings were put up in 1948. At the end of the year, 12 new buildings and additions were still under construction. Our building program will continue as we grow and develop.

21,800,000 calls a day handled. This is an increase of about 10 per cent over 1947. We now have an organization of 72,000 telephone men and women. During the year thousands of new employees were added to our force and trained to give friendly and courteous service.

'THE 'CHEAP DIVORCE' DODGE

Sen. Arthur Capper's retirement ended a 30-year, one-man crusade to make wife-desertion a crime, an article in the current American Magazine recalls. Mr. Capper's annual bills never got out of committee, for most senators felt that their provisions interfered with states' rights.

The Capper crusade was against a weakness in most state laws which the American article discusses. A man can get a cheap "divorce" and usually evade all responsibility to his family simply by moving to another state. Since wife-desertion is not usually considered a crime unless the fugitive's children are destitute, he cannot be extradited.

New York has passed a law drafted by the Cook County, Ill., district attorney and his assistant. It provides that one state will take testimony in a desertion case and send the record to another court in the state where the deserter is living. The second court could try the man, order him to make regular payments of specified amounts, and put him in jail if he didn't. As civil actions, these cases would not violate the constitutional right of a person accused of a crime to confront his accuser.

New York cannot begin to put its desertion law into effect until another state passes a similar one. All 48 states would have to pass such a law, of course, to make it really effective. We commend its Illinois authors and sponsors for their effort to bring about this countrywide passage. There is no excuse for letting children become charges of relatives or the public or else suffer neglect because our laws permit fathers to step across a state line and obtain a "divorce" that is cheap in every sense of the word.

TELEVISION AND CULTURE

Book publishers are said to be nervous about the competition of television, as it becomes a new medium of entertainment for the home and family. Families with television sets are reading fewer books than they used to, it is said, and the suggestion is made that culture will suffer.

Probably every advancement in the physical means of entertainment or activity reduces the amount of reading done by the individual, to some extent. The radio, the motion pictures, the automobile and other creations of the mechanical age have all had an effect on reading habits. It does not necessarily follow that culture suffers. Culture may be spread by radio, or the movies, or by an automobile trip, as well as through good reading. Each is good or bad, from the viewpoint of culture, according to how it is made and used.

Every new method of entertainment takes the center of attention for a while. Then it subsides into its place as one of many—and reading goes on.

Television, which bids fair to become common within a few more years, is a new medium for entertainment and for the growth of culture. It might even help the book-reading public, if it really injects a new element of competition into the field of publishing.

VERMONT PROCTORS

The daughter, sister and aunt of governors of Vermont has just died. She was Miss Emily D. Proctor of Proctor, Vt. Her father, Redfield Proctor, served from 1878 to 1880; her brother, another Redfield, from 1923 to 1925, and her nephew, Mortimer R., was governor from 1945 to 1947.

Distinctly the most eminent was the elder Redfield, who built up what was then the largest marble business in the state, became secretary of war under President Harrison, and resigned to serve the remaining 17 years of his life in the Senate. There in 1898 his calm survey of the cruelty of Spanish rule in Cuba did much to win public sentiment to the declaration of war against Spain.

The choice of the later Proctors looks like partially an attempt to recapture the glamor of the past. States often do that. Maine kept Senator Frederick Hale in office for 24 years because his father Eugene had been one of the Senate's most powerful leaders; the son showed no inclination to follow in his

'These Days'

EVERYMAN'S MIRROR

The American Bar Association has a committee which is complaining that motion pictures, radio, and comic strips treat the lawyers badly. Arthur J. Freund is chairman of the special committee to influence the various media to change their ways, to give the lawyers a break. Mr. Freund said:

"The lawyer, the judge and courtroom procedure are all too frequently depicted in an unfavorable manner. Whereas the doctor is almost always representative as a kindly, charitable and capable professional person, the lawyer is usually portrayed as cruel, selfish, tricky and unethical."

There can be no question but that lawyers, like the rest of us, have a just complaint. The constant repetition of apparently useless questions; the tripping up of the lawyers; the unbelievable buncombe smut of the lawyers; the judge falling asleep on the bench during the long sessions—if reporters wrote literally what they saw and heard, lawyers would be unhappy than they are. Perhaps we fail to realize their ordeals and the wisdom of their course.

Maybe the rules of evidence cannot be revised so that a witness can tell his story as he saw it or heard it. Why is it necessary to confuse him by constant interruptions, objections and arguments so that no jury can possibly get the picture exactly as the witness saw it? I once served on a jury and I am sure that after the lawyers and the judge stopped arguing about what is or what is not admissible evidence, no juror could give an intelligent decision.

The real point of this committee's purpose is to get the comic strips to quit producing crime strips, but obviously the crime, adventure, horror comic strips are published because so many want to read them, as so many prefer detective radio programs to listening to Shostakovitch.

One of the memos got out by that committee makes an interesting point. It says:

"The feeling of the lawyers that something should be done is the result of the deliberations of both the federal and the state agencies. The lawyers are not pleading for the dignity of the court. They are merely pleading for the dignity of the court. The effect of crime movies and radio broadcasts comes from actual reports from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the respective judges and prosecuting attorneys throughout the United States."

Now, if these lawyers would say outright that they object to crime motion pictures, radio performances and comic strips and that they would prefer something different with practical proposals, I might go along with them quite a distance. As much as I enjoy a good detective story, I do not quite approve of my eight-year-old daughter listening to or looking at horrors. In fact, I forbid it and hope, but I cannot be sure, that she is not as disobedient about that as she is about bubble gum.

However, when these gentlemen consider their special efforts a plea for greater consideration for the dignity of the legal profession, I must ask them first to consider the fact that the number of lawyers of the court, sworn to uphold our form of government and our constitution, have refused to answer under oath whether they are or are not Communists. They stand in contempt of the Congress of the United States. By their conduct, they have given the impression of being paid by the government, paratrust to destroy our form of government. What have the gentlemen of the bar done about that?

I would be the last person to say that there is not something very ugly about our society in this generation, but detective and crime stories are not the worst that can be said about it. It is that more things seem to have lost its place in our lives. Anything seems to go. Anything at all. Maybe we see a portrayal of all of us, not as each of us sees himself but as we are seen by others. Dignity of person exists not in suppressions but in the grandeur of personality. No one can think of Charles Evans Hughes or Louis D. Brandeis without the word "dignity" popping into his head. Now I make comparisons?

Maybe the Bar Association's committee can propose some simple means for restoring the full respect for our courts and for the legal profession—at one time, next to the clergy, it would be beneficial to America. The clergy were as respected as they are in cleaning up the legal profession. The courts, in simplifying procedure; in insuring the sweetness, the gentleness, the great learning, the scholarship, the dignity of person of our judiciary. The American Bar Association can do much about that.

That Body of Yours

MIGRAINE

For many years, physicians have been searching for the cause of migraine—one-sided headache, often with symptoms present being nausea and vomiting. When it was discovered that ergotamine tartrate (gynergen) or inhaling pure oxygen would stop the attack in the majority of cases, patients and the some busy physicians did not seek further for the cause of migraine.

Research and clinical physicians always try to find the cause of an ailment and prevent attacks. Thus, in the history of "Medical Clinics of North America," Dr. Ruskin Graham, Harvard Medical School, states: "Any doctor who has seen a patient with a full-blown migraine attack will realize that it is a violent experience, the frequent repetition of which may make serious roads on life and livelihood, and in some cases actually cause total incapacity."

Because migraine is such a serious ailment, Dr. Graham suggests investigation from various standpoints—the history of the beginning of the attacks, how often attacks occur, other symptoms present besides headache, how much relief is obtained by treatment used, any family history of headache, any injury that may have occurred.

More important in the search for the cause is the patient's day and diet—how every hour is spent and what foods are eaten. Also vital is the home or family life.

The patient is given a thorough physical examination—eyes, nose, teeth, throat, sinuses, neck posture, blood pressure and thyroid gland. Then a mental and emotional history is taken.

Some of the mistakes in everyday living that are factors in causing or aggravating migraine are: Getting up too late in the morning and hurrying breakfast and stool habits, working steadily through the day without any breaks, staying up too late at night, not enough concern about household or recreation, too much concern about food, too duties and cleanliness, too much starch food, too trying to do too many things in the one day or week.

The ergotamine tartrate treatment is still considered best in severe attacks, while acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin) appears to control mild attacks.

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." To obtain it, just send 10 cents and mailing. To the Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 59, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

Familiarity Breeds Contempt

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—As the clans begin to gather in Washington, D. C., it's generally conceded that the inauguration of Harry Truman will surpass even that of Andrew Jackson as the greatest show in history.

Perhaps that is because Melvin Hildreth, chairman of the inaugural committee, is long-time president of the Circus Kays of America. Hildreth, a politician who District of Columbia politics, who never wavered in his belief that Truman would be re-elected, has only one other love beside the President—the circus.

No circus ever comes to town but Mel Hildreth is down at the lot long before the big top arrives, making sure things are in order. If it's raining in advance, he'll get truckloads of chairs and his own expense to keep the show dry. When Ringling Brothers comes north for its first early spring opening in New York, Hildreth is down at the Potomac Yards in Alexandria, where the train stops en route to water the animals.

There isn't a clown or an animal trainer of any standing who doesn't know Mel Hildreth. Mel's business is law. He is a practicing attorney. But those who know him sometimes wonder if he isn't really just a small boy at heart. Certainly no inusual in history has been better planned or more extravagantly executed than that which will occur in Harry S. Truman as 32nd President of the United States on Thursday.

Battery D Celebrates

Second only to the days in 1918 when they wheeled their French 75s into action in the Vosges Mountains, this week is the most momentous in history for Battery D, 129th Field Artillery, 53th Division. This week Battery D will march at the head of the inaugural parade as guard of honor to the little captain who commanded it in World War I.

Just before that parade there will be a reunion breakfast on Missouri ham attended by Capt. Harry Truman. There have been other reunions of Battery D, and Captain Truman is hoping that this one won't be anything like the one back in 1921.

That was just three years after the end of the war and some members of Battery D were still unmarried, still in the process of getting readjusted. That reunion, staged in the Kansas City Elks Club, was carefully planned, from an elaborate dinner, to speeches, skits and song. The cocktails were served and wartime stories retold. Dinner was postponed while the drinks went round again—and then again—and some more.

Finally someone picked up a plate, settled it across the room, then "Dizzy Battery D" went on a rampage. Some two hours and 400 plates later, the reunion ended. Next day the Elks Club totaled the damage and presented a bill for $158 to the president of the Battery D Association.

That was the biggest bill for chinaware Harry Truman ever had to pay. Note—Three weeks ago in Kansas City, Truman, who had not been one of the active plato-sailors, ended his comrades-in-arms, "I'll be glad to see you all in Washington, but I don't look forward to buying another $158 worth of broken dishes."

Capt. Truman Under Fire

When Harry Truman was a very green and nervous artillery captain going into action for the first time he ran across Judge Bennett Clark, former Senator from Missouri, and son of the famed Speaker Champ Clark. Clark and Truman had trained together in the Missouri National Guard, and went to France together about the same time. Clark with the rank of lieutenant colonel in the 6th Missouri Infantry.

Truman's hand-drawn artillery had just arrived at a French railroad station behind the Vosges front in "40 and 80 boxcars, and was in the process of unloading when suddenly, Lt. Col. Clark turned to Truman, pointing dramatically to a dead horse lying near the railroad station, he commanded:

"Captain, you better get your men and gurs out of here in a hurry. The Germans are shelling this place and you ought to unload and get under cover as quick as you can."

Taking Clark at his word, the nervous future President of the United States ordered his battery to retreat in a hurry, even pitching in himself to help. After Battery D had sweated frantically to get out of the "zone of fire," Clark walked over to Truman with a grin.

"That's a fine job, Truman," he said.

But the joke's on you. That horse wasn't killed by the Germans. He was shot by a veterinarian."

Truman didn't think the joke was so funny then. Since then, he has tackled other new jobs, and has pitched in, green and nervous, to get them done. Later, when he became President of the United States, and Bennett Clark was defeated for the Senate, he appointed the ex-lieutenant colonel who played the joke on him to a coveted seat on the U. S. Court of Appeals.

J. Edgar Hoover's Pay

Senator Herbert O'Connor of Maryland, Democratic sponsor of the government pay-raise bill, cited G-man J. Edgar Hoover in an article for American Magazine as one of the few servants who didn't get paid enough. Yet, when O'Connor drew up his bill to boost government salaries, he strangely left Hoover's name off.

This omission caused a flare-up behind closed doors when Wm. F. Flanders, Senator from Vermont, co-author with O'Connor of the pay-raise bill, was questioned by the G.O.P. steering committee to explain it.

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire asked why the F.B.I. director had not been included in the bill.

"We had to draw the line somewhere," explained Flanders. "It's a crooked, indistinct line." retorted Bridges, "when you increase the salaries of the deputy public printer, the chief assistant librarian of Congress and the Philippine alien property administrator—and leave off the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

Flanders countered by suggesting that Hoover's name be brought up in an inter-bill.

Virginia Democrat Sees Pay Roll Taxes Undermining America to Do What Communists Wish

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 18 — Payroll taxes could conceivably bankrupt America and do exactly what the Communists want done to undermine American stability.

This in substance is the view expressed by Senator A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, Democrat, in a speech just delivered.

"Before there is a resort to force," said Mr. Robertson, "we may expect an all-out Communist effort to wreck the democracies of the world financially. In Europe that effort takes the form of physical sabotage of economic rehabilitation. In this country it takes the form of creating discontent, stimulating demands for public spending which are extravagant even though they are not directly socialistic, and infiltrating our national life by government action and competition which either is socialistic or which inevitably will hamper individual enterprise."

"Without impugning the motives of many of those who are advocating so-called social legislation, therefore, I think it may be in order for us to examine the possible effect on our way of life of some current proposals."

The Virginia Senator then analyzed the recommendations of the President for larger taxes on payrolls, he added:

"If the old age and survivors insurance tax goes to the predicted 5.2 per cent and the unemployed tax stays at 3 per cent and a proposed disability insurance plan costs 3.5 per cent, as estimated by the Social Security Board, this amounts to a combined rate of nearly 16 per cent on payrolls. To that must be added the cost of whatever additional benefits are provided under the old age and survivors insurance program."

"At one hearing before the Ways and Means Committee on the subject some economists placed a total of such payroll taxes at 20 per cent."

"If the tax should reach that rate and with Mr. Ewing's proposal that the tax apply to incomes up to $4,800, the half paid by employees would go as high as $40 a month, in addition to all other taxes."

Mr. Robertson said that before embarking on any such program Congress should "determine whether or not the people of the nation can finance it without ultimate socialization of our economy."

Most important of all, of course, is the impact of the payroll taxes on prices and on the costs of production. The assumption that payroll taxes can be added without hurting the economic system is ludicrous. Senator Robertson makes the point this way:

"Increased taxes on business have been proposed on incomes as well as payrolls. The imposition of payroll taxes has a three-way effect:

"(1) In adding to the cost of production they will reduce the level of profit which the present sellers' market turns to a buyers' market, as eventually it will.

"(2) They increase the cost of the business item to the consumer and tend to nullify other efforts to reduce the high cost of living.

"(3) Payroll taxes are charged as a cost of doing business and are deducted from gross income before computing the net taxable income and thus reduce the government's income-tax revenue, each $1,000,000 of such taxes resulting in a loss of about $300,000,000 in income tax."

The Virginia senator referred in this connection significantly to the socialism of Great Britain when he said:

"The United Kingdom now owns a fifth of all industry of Great Britain. The British injection of socialism into its private enterprise system has recently been extended to the field of medical care. If it takes a British patient a long time to get well in a government hospital as it does in this country, the plan is going to be expensive. Recent statistics in this country show that the average patient spends thirty days in a federal hospital but only seven days in a private hospital."

The whole problem of payroll taxes will become one of the most controversial issues of the present session of Congress. The expense of social-welfare legislation has been erroneously figured on a one-year basis. But the progressive increases required in future years may well bring a serious question concerning the integrity of the dollar. Its purchasing power will be more and more devalued if the taxing power for social-welfare legislation is stretched to the limit while the $252,000,000,000 national debt remains virtually unchanged for an indefinite period of time. It seems utterly unlikely that America can pay 20 per cent of all payrolls for social welfare and pay other taxes high enough to yield a surplus over expenses to pay off the national debt. Besides, there is evidently no serious intention to limit or reduce future expenses.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

An air of splendor, extravagance and privilege has brightened the presidential office since Mr. Roosevelt's accession and even the sad and motherly Herbert Hoover puts vines in his hair when he thinks of the institution now. By a quaint paradox, Mr. Hoover, "The Wall Street stooge," as one has often heard him called since 1932, gave us a reign that was all morose with his rigid obedience of the foul amendment and his personal aversion to courtly airs and plumes. It was only when the man of the people arrived from the Hyde Park barony to lead his angry thralls in the war on what battles began to season the garbage.

Now Mr. Hoover approves more earnestly than any other a royal rate of pay for the President, plus an expense allowance fit for Lewis, Petillo, or Tobin.

Congress finally passed a raise from $75,000 to $100,000 or 33 1/3 per cent, plus an expense allowance of $50,000, exempt from income tax, in other words, whatever the President saved on the tax would be his. Mr. Hoover has endorsed the sentiment if not the particulars. To my own vandal proposal that the White House become a museum or just a memory and that the President be quartered in a modest modern house of size and mien suitable to our pretense of homespun simplicity, Mr. Hoover raised a protest. He was positively emotional for him. He said the American people looked at the White House as a temple, our Buckingham Palace in short, and wanted their President to live there for their pleasure if not for his. No faceless man down a hole could be more naive and inconsistent. For here is a plain and humble man, who gave to charity his earnings as president, trying to chisel and pare a few hundred paltry million from the budget that leaves reality earthbound. And yet he cannot think of the presidential office without panoply and gauds. A husband who hangs minks on his spouse or a third party has the same instincts and I dare say the American economy relies so much on such extravagance that a sudden wave of Scotch frugality would throw us into panic.

It is wasteful and a bad example nevertheless to raise Mr. Truman's pay and allowances and the worse to do it by the fraud

So They Say... Questions-Answers

There is an immense reaction of common people towards their desire for peace. Americans are much more alarmed about the prospects of war than we are in England. They are fearful of it and they fear it may come.

Why are penguins unable to fly? —A—For countless generations they have failed to use their wings for flying. The sea has been their home and refuge, and, in consequence, flight has been abandoned in exchange for increased swimming powers, which have been gained by transforming the wings into paddles.

Q—Who wrote the words and music of the Marine Corps hymn? —A—The exact origin of the words and music of the Marine Corps hymn is unknown but research indicates that it was written about 1847 by an unknown marine. The music was probably taken from an old Spanish folk tune the melody of which also occurs in a French opera, "Genevieve de Brabant."

Q—Why is the reception room in a theatre's wings called a green room? —A—Because at one time the walls were painted green to relieve the eyes of the players.

Q—Does the president of the United States ever wear uniform? —A—No, he is a civilian, although commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

Death of Baker Presents Big Problem to Florida Cops

Tallahassee, Fla., Jan. 18 (AP)—The death of wealthy Greenville Baker, who was found beside his wrecked jeep with a pistol wound in his head, presented a puzzle to police today.

A coroner's jury, after four hours of testimony from witnesses last night, found only that the 27-year-old heir of a New York banking family was killed by a pistol "held by a party or parties unknown."

A divorced tavern waitress who was with Baker when the jeep was wrecked could give no explanation for the bullet wound. Sheriff Frank Stoutamire offered no theories, and no one was being held in connection with the case.

The young amateur aviator died about 3:30 a. m. Monday on one of the many winding trails of his mother's "Horseshoe Plantation," where the Duke and Duchess of Windsor were entertained two years ago.

The waitress, Mrs. Thelma Griffin, said she never had met Baker before Sunday night. She testified that Baker fired one pistol shot in an effort to attract the attention of a car of companions just before he lost control of the jeep.

Says She Was Unconscious—The car stuck an embankment and she was thrown out, the young divorcee said. When she recovered consciousness she saw Baker in the middle of the road, and heard him groan.

She ran to the highway, met the other car which was waiting for her, and reported the accident. They returned to the scene, she said, and Baker died a few minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Although Mrs. Griffin said she heard only the single shot Baker fired while he was driving, the jeep, his ten-shell capacity pistol had only eight shells in it when it was found.

Mrs. Griffin said Baker put the pistol in the pocket of his coat, which she was wearing, after he fired the shot in the jeep—but that it wasn't there when she ran for help.

When she and the others came back, they said they found the pistol on the ground and put it back into the pocket. Later, they gave it to the sheriff.

Floyd Whiddon, operator of a drive-in tavern, said Baker called him from the airport after arriving about 10 p. m. Sunday from the Bahamas.

They had a midnight supper. Then Whiddon, his wife, their child, and Mrs. Griffin escorted Baker to his country home. They said there was very little drinking during the evening.

When they arrived at the plantation, Baker got the jeep to show the Whiddons the way to the main road through the winding maze of woodland trails.

Mrs. Griffin rode with him, and was to meet the Whiddons at the highway.

No Improper Advances—The divorcee testified Baker made no improper advances and

DIES IN FLORIDA

Greenville K. Baker (above), New York banking family heir, previously reported killed in an automobile accident, had a bullet hole "through his head" when found, Dr. George C. Gwynn testified at a coroner's inquest at Tallahassee, Fla. Sheriff Frank Stoutamire had reported earlier that Baker was killed instantly when his jeep ran into a ditch on his mother's nearby plantation.

there were no unpleasant incidents during the ride. Young Baker's wife, the former Alicia Graigales of Mexico City, was reported flying to New York for her husband's funeral, which probably will be Wednesday.

Baker was a World War 2 flier, an amateur aviation enthusiast, and an avid hunter. He was the son of the late George E. Baker, who died 10 years ago while his yacht was rushing him through the South Pacific toward a Honolulu hospital.

Baker, who was known to his friends as "Beans," was separated from his wealthy Mexican wife. They married in 1943, but had been apart for some time.

Sheriff Stoutamire declared "I will do everything possible to find out how Baker was shot, whether it was accidental, by himself, or somebody else."

State Attorney William D. Hopkins also said he would continue his investigation of the case.

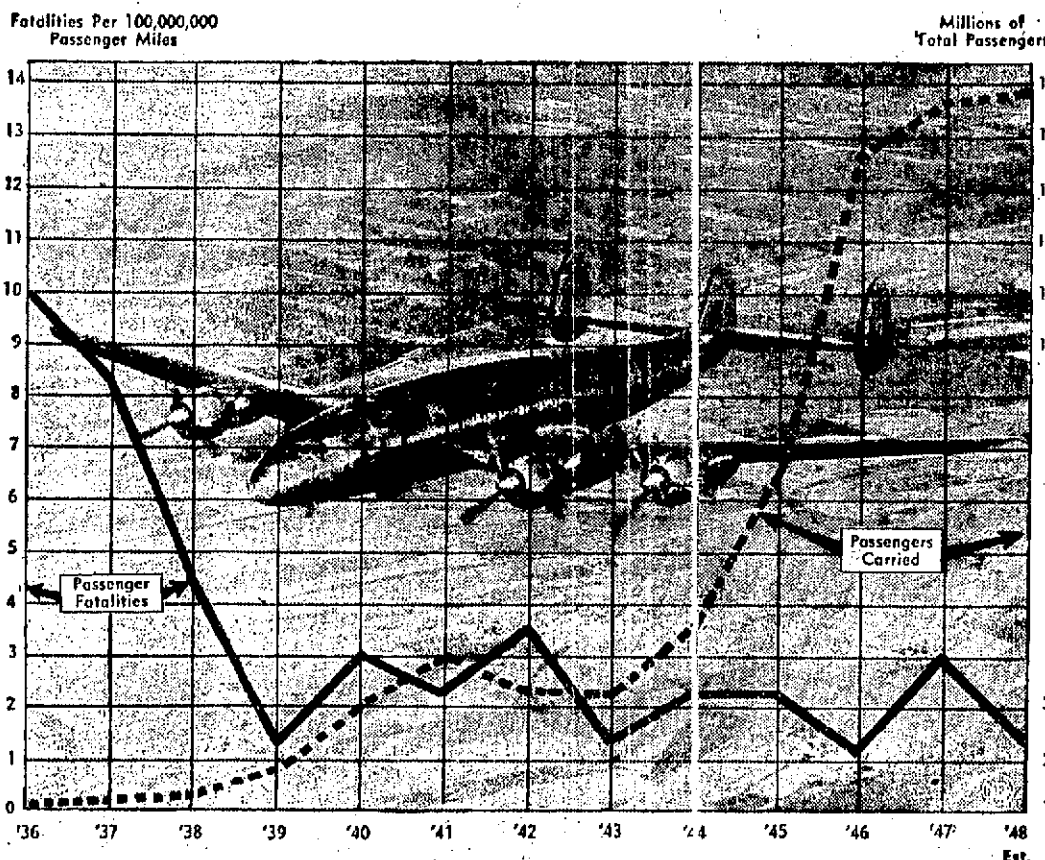

It was noted that Larkin Badger, a Negro tenant farmer on the Baker plantation, told authorities that he heard two shots after hearing the jeep strike an embankment, and later heard a third shot also.

Surviving the young heir are his mother, a brother and two sisters, all of New York.

While the total number of passengers carried by United States domestic scheduled airlines continues to rise, the number of fatalities dropped in 1948. The estimated 1948 fatality figures in 1.3 per 100,000,000 passenger miles. A "passenger mile" means flying one passenger one mile. Real passenger fatalities (solid line) on left scale, and passengers carried (broken line) on right scale. Figures are from the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Syracuse Nurse Will Join Ulster Health Department

The appointment of Miss Esther A. Schisa of Syracuse to the position of director of public health nursing in the Ulster County Health Department was announced today by Dr. George James, commissioner of health.

Miss Schisa will begin her work with the health department on February 1, filling the position left vacant when Miss Adele Dicksen, R.N., resigned in December, 1948.

Miss Schisa is a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing in Syracuse and received a B.S. degree in public health nursing from Syracuse University in 1947.

Miss Schisa has done graduate work in eye and ear surgical nursing at the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary and was formerly employed as a staff public health nurse and later maternity supervisor for the Syracuse Visiting Nurse Association.

In December 1943, she entered the Army Nurse Corps and served as supervising nurse of medical, surgical, psychiatric and maternity wards until January 1946.

In February 1947, Miss Schisa became associated with the New York State Health Department as an assistant district supervising nurse of rural nursing in Onondaga county.

Miss Schisa will come to the Ulster County Department of Health highly recommended by the State Health Department Bureau of Public Health Nursing, and will be a valuable addition to the staff, having immediate responsibility for the public health nursing activities in this area.

Socialite Can't Live On Her $480 Monthly

Pittsburgh, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Alma DuPuy, attractive New York socialite, told a Common Pleas Court judge yesterday she can't get along on the $480 a month she has been receiving from a trust established by her husband.

Mrs. DuPuy testified she separated from Herbert DuPuy, former Pittsburgh resident now living at Wolford Lake, near Montreal, Canada, two years ago.

At that time, she told Judge John P. Egan, DuPuy established a $209,388 trust which was expected to supply her $616 a month.

Since then, she said, the income has dwindled to $480—and she said she spends $585 monthly, including $150 for rent, $100 for maid, $100 for clothes, another $100 for food, $40 for personal expenses, $45 for laundry and $50 for telephone bills.

TB Association Will Expand Its Program This Year

Determined to cut down the incidence of tuberculosis in Ulster county during the new year, the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association has launched its 1949 program with new and expanded activities, according to an announcement today by Harry S. Ensign, the association's president.

It is planned to cooperate with the county and state departments of health and to appropriate funds for community organization, promotion, and publicity for further chest X-rays surveys carried on throughout the rest of Ulster county. During 1948, 26,366 adults were made aware of the value of a chest X-ray through just such a program.

In addition to the regular health and disease prevention program, the association has recently voted to include a mental health program. Activities of the mental health committee will include the promotion for better understanding of mental illness and to help prevent mental illnesses through the dissemination of information, through the distribution of leaflets, posters, and other literature, as well as the utilization of radio, newspapers, exhibits, etc.

"These valuable health services," said President Ensign, "would not be possible without the generous response of our people to the 1948 Christmas Seal sale. Tuberculosis is still one of the leading causes of death in this country, and kills approximately 50,000 Americans each year. With the cooperation of county residents, the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association will be able to take further steps to control tuberculosis in this community this year and to carry on a constructive health program in the county."

Says Prince Likes Rita, A Lovely Simple Girl

Cannes, Jan. 18 (AP)—Prince Aly Khan's marriage "will break a lot of hearts," his social secretary said today.

Aly, son of wealthy Aga Khan, announced yesterday he will marry actress Rita Hayworth when he has divorced his English wife.

The secretary, Emrys Williams, a brawny Welshman, told reporters: "You know how it is. The prince has everything—position, money, looks. The women never let him alone for five minutes and not only ordinary women, society women, too." Williams described Rita, who is confined to the prince's villa with grippe, as "a lovely, simple girl. She's nice in spite of being a movie star, never paints or wears a lot of diamonds."

Want the Liveliest Run for your money?

Isn't often, these days, that you hear value mentioned in the same breath with bigness and fine finish and automotive luxury.

But talk to owners of the Buick Roadmaster, and you'll find one of the major reasons for choosing this handsome carriage is its downright dollar value.

As a fine car should be, it's big and road-wise and steady; we'll match its level-striding riding qualities with anything else on the highway.

It's a dream to handle, with Dynaflo Drive standard on all body-types, and all normal gearshifting eliminated by a completely fluid transmission.

It's richly finished, with special custom trim available if you want a special added touch of smartness and luxury.

But the big thing about it is its power. More power, perhaps, than necessity demands—but enough to make you perfect master of hill and highway, of short, fast stretch and long, far-ranging journey.

So much power, indeed, that practically nowhere outside the lowest priced field will you find so much per dollar—and nothing there gives you a livelier run for your money.

Go look at the Roadmaster for 1949. Let your Buick dealer point out all it has to offer. Then—check the price tags.

You'll get your order in just as a matter of making your dollars do greatest duty.

All Hands Round; The Ball on the Floor

This sprightly bit of action featured Kingston High's recent victory over Port Jervis (No. 41 in a row) at the municipal auditorium. Ronnie Scheffel, Kingston forward and Port's Jay Bauer and Dom Marando scramble for a ball that isn't there. Meanwhile, Mort Gazlay (13), "Champ" Holstein (8) and Keefe Chambers (17) and Port's Nicolette (7) eagerly await developments. (Freeman Photo)

Sport Films Due At KAA Meeting

The variety of sports films with the "World Series of 1948" as the principal attraction will be shown at Wednesday night's meeting of the Kingston Athletic Association. The meeting starts at 8 p. m.

The baseball film is the official American-National League version produced by Lew Fonseca and will be seen for the first time in this area.

Other features include "Follow Through" on golf; "Monarchs of the Ring" on wrestling; and "Safety First" on sports in general.

Deny Peace Move In Gridiron War

Chicago, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mum was the word on pro football peace maneuvering today as the All American Conference opened a three-day meeting with a secret huddle.

Officials of both the A.A.C. and the National Football League, which begins its annual winter parley tomorrow night, refuse to admit that new peace treaties are in the air. But they would not be surprised—in fact, probably disappointed—if there weren't a knock on the door during the week and talks resumed.

They all would like to see a halt to the crippling pro football war which has cost the 18 clubs of both circuits approximately $8,000,000 in three years. But there is a stalemate stubbornness on both sides.

The 29-year-old N.F.L. believes it should dictate terms. The A.A.C. feels this is absurd since there is no idea of surrender in effect.

Whether a compromise can be reached is questionable. There appears to be many individual differences to contend with.

Chicago, Jan. 18 (AP)—It looks like it will take more than a broken fist and the present crop of lightweight to stop Dendy-pun Ike Williams, king of the 135 pounders.

The Trenton, N. J., negro returned to the ring last night after a two month layoff because of a broken hand. Before his fight with clever Johnny Bratton of Chicago the burning questions were: "Will the hand worry Ike and can the fast stepping Bratton upset the dope?"

The answer was given by Williams in the ring as he pounded the Chicagoan to gain a unanimous 10 round decision.

Both fighters tipped the scales at 138.

Ike said the hand worried him a little but it would be hard to prove that to the satisfaction of 8,015 fans who saw the champion stifle the bid of a game, plucky and clever boxer.

Bratton Rugged

While Williams won with a 7-3 verdict from Judge Harry Lasty, a 6-2-2 nod from Judge Leo Costello and a surprisingly close 5-4-1 decision from Referee Charley Daggert, he knew he was in a fight.

A blood smeared Bratton actually dared the champion to come out and fight in the eighth round and then punctuated his challenge with a right hand to the jaw that stunned Williams momentarily. Bratton danced and jabbed but the 21-year-old boxer just didn't have the overall ability to lick a fighter of Williams caliber.

When told that Williams had been leery about using his right hand, Bratton commented, "I'd hate to meet him when he isn't worried."

Hein Ten Hoff, Hic, 'The Champ' Arrives

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Hein Ten Hoff, heavyweight boxing champion of Germany, arrived at LaGuardia Field at 1:30 a. m. today aboard an American Overseas Airlines plane from Frankfurt.

Hein Ten Hoff, a six-foot-four-inch giant, unbound himself from a transatlantic airplane early today and told interviewers he wouldn't mind fighting Joe Louis. "Why not?" said the 216-pound German heavyweight boxing champion. "It's the ambition of every fighter to meet the best in his field."

Hoff, first German athlete to reach the United States since the war, holds a six-month contract with Lew Burston of the 20th Century-Swelling Circuit.

Hoff gained his German title with a victory over Walter Neusel in 1946. He claims 149 victories as an amateur and 17 as a pro.

McCarthy's Assistants Send Signed Contracts

Boston, Jan. 18 (AP)—Three of the men who will aid Manager Joe McCarthy in the overall strategy of the Boston Red Sox this coming season have forwarded their signed contracts to Fenway Park.

They are Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, John Schutte and Paul Schueiber. The fourth coach, also a confidant of many years of McCarthy, is Earl Combs and he is expected to be back at the first base coaching lines this year.

Cleveland Indian pitching star Gene Bearden led the American League hurlers in his first season with an earned run average of 2.43.

Half of Zamperini Beat Japan's Best

Tokyo, Jan. 18 (AP)—The story of how an American, track star, while badly undernourished and as a prisoner of war, was forced to race a Japanese champion—and beat him—was disclosed today.

It was revealed in an affidavit from Lou Zamperini, one time Olympic games miler from Southern California. His affidavit is in the war crimes trial record of Adm. Soreu Toyoda.

Zamperini was an Air Force bombardier during the war. He was captured after floating 47 days on a life raft off the Marshall Islands.

The miler testified that some time after his capture he was compelled to run the race but won despite his condition.

The former captain did not name the Japanese miler.

Montreal-Laurent Dauthuille, 155, Paris, France, outpointed Ralph Zancilli, 146, Providence, R. I. (10).

Buffalo Golden Glove Aces Will Appear on Next Card

Four Golden Glove champions from Buffalo will invade the municipal auditorium on Thursday night, January 27, when B'nai B'rith holds its second card of the new year.

The title wearers coached by George Lamphire, noted trainer from the Niagara District A.A.U., are matched with Adirondack District sluggers, who keep punching from go to gong.

There should be a lot of action, advised Ben M. Becker of Albany, chairman of boxing for this area, as he put his okay on the bill of scraps.

The four main bouts are:

Five Rounders

Ernest Keith, 160, Buffalo, Golden Gloves middleweight champion vs. Dick Tuttle, Gloversville, Adirondack A.A.U. title winner last year.

Jimmy Hall, Buffalo Golden Gloves champion vs. Mickey Russo, Highland, who fought a sensational battle on the card last week.

Sid Barneson, Canaan, winner by a knockout in the second round on the last local card vs. Johnny Austin, Buffalo Golden Gloves welterweight champion.

Harry Smith, Canaan bantamweight vs. Rufus Rogers, Albany, who defeated Joe Sandulo, Canaan's representative in the Olympics.

Although the preliminary matches were not announced, Becker indicated that Tony Mucio of Kingston would have a spot in one of the three-rounders to follow up the career he started by knocking out his opponent in the second round last week.

First Presbyterian, Achim Win Decisively

First Presbyterian and Agudas Achim scored overwhelming victories in recent junior Church League basketball games.

Reedell was high with 14 points as the Presbyterians routed B'nai B'rith, 41-17. Hart tossed in 15 for Agudas Achim, 51-8 conquerors of Ahavath Israel.

The scores:

First Presbyterian (41)—Stenson f 8, Bechtold f 9, Rousa f 2, Reedell c 14, Radcliff g 2, Burger g 6.

B'nai B'rith (17)—Lipton f 5, Flamm f, Galy c 1, Parlowin c 2, Wallum g 2, Brinnier g, Feldman g 7, Taylor g.

Abavath Israel (8)—Bahl f 2, Reuben f 2, Schoonmaker c 4, Praeger g, Heisman g.

Agudas Achim (51)—Kaplan f 10, Hart f 19, Houghtaling c 9, Singer g 8, Goldstein g 5.

Buys Chiefs

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—William F. Hoffman, Sr., president of the Syracuse Chiefs of the International Baseball League, and his family now hold full control of the club's stock.

Hoffman announced last night the purchase of the stock held by Leo T. Miller, who was deposed recently as president and general manager of the Chiefs.

Patton Quits

Los Angeles, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mel Patton, the latest "world's fastest human," has hung up his spikiest.

The Olympic 200-meter champion and holder of the unofficial world's record for the 100-yard dash will pass up his final year of competition at the University of Southern California because he has to support his wife and daughter. The university made the announcement yesterday.

In the London Olympics last summer, he placed fifth in the 100-meters and won the 200-meters in 21.1. He also anchored the victorious U. S. 400-meter relay team.

Vote Billikens Best in Nation In First AP Poll

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Unbeaten St. Louis University today was voted the top college basketball team in the nation.

In a coast to coast poll, first in the sport ever conducted by the Associated Press, the brilliant Billikens from Missouri received 69 first place votes out of 93 ballots to lead runner-up Kentucky by a wide margin. Coach Ed Hickey's fast breaking crew has whipped 11 straight foes this season.

In addition to its first place nominations, St. Louis drew 23 second place votes and one fourth for a winning 904 points, to gain the honor of being named on all ballots. Kentucky was the only other quintet to receive recognition by all the experts, but got only 16 first place votes to finish second with 842 points. The Wildcats garnered 67 second place votes, nine thirds and one fourth. Kentucky's only loss in 12 games was to St. Louis, 42-40.

W. Kentucky Third

Western Kentucky, one of the country's five undefeated fives, placed a third with 545 points. Only team to be mentioned for all 10 places, the Hilltoppers squeezed out only two firsts, but bagged 43 thirds to edge out fourth place Minnesota.

The Gophers, triumphant in all their 12 starts earned fourth place with three first place votes and 480 points.

The Oklahoma Aggies, only other team to receive first place mention, landed fifth place on three firsts and 289 points.

The tabulation is based on 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second and down one for tenth.

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Today I want you to meet Dr. Louis Mark, a practicing physician of Columbus, O., specializing in tuberculosis. On Jan. 1, Dr. Mark became the president of the American Contract Bridge League. He is undoubtedly one of the most active bridge organizers in the middle west.

"Doc's" specialty is hands in which he has to read the distribution, or use some tricky end-play or squeeze. In today's hand he had to get a very accurate reading of the cards, and then pull off a cute play.

He won the opening lead of the king of diamonds in dummy with the ace, took three rounds of trumps, then went over to dummy's king of clubs and ruffed the seven of diamonds in his own hand. Next he cashed the ace and queen of clubs.

He knew now that West had held three hearts and three clubs to start with. In all probability he had at least five diamonds, and this meant that he held two spades. If West did have two spades, the hand was easy. If he held no spades, the contract was lost.

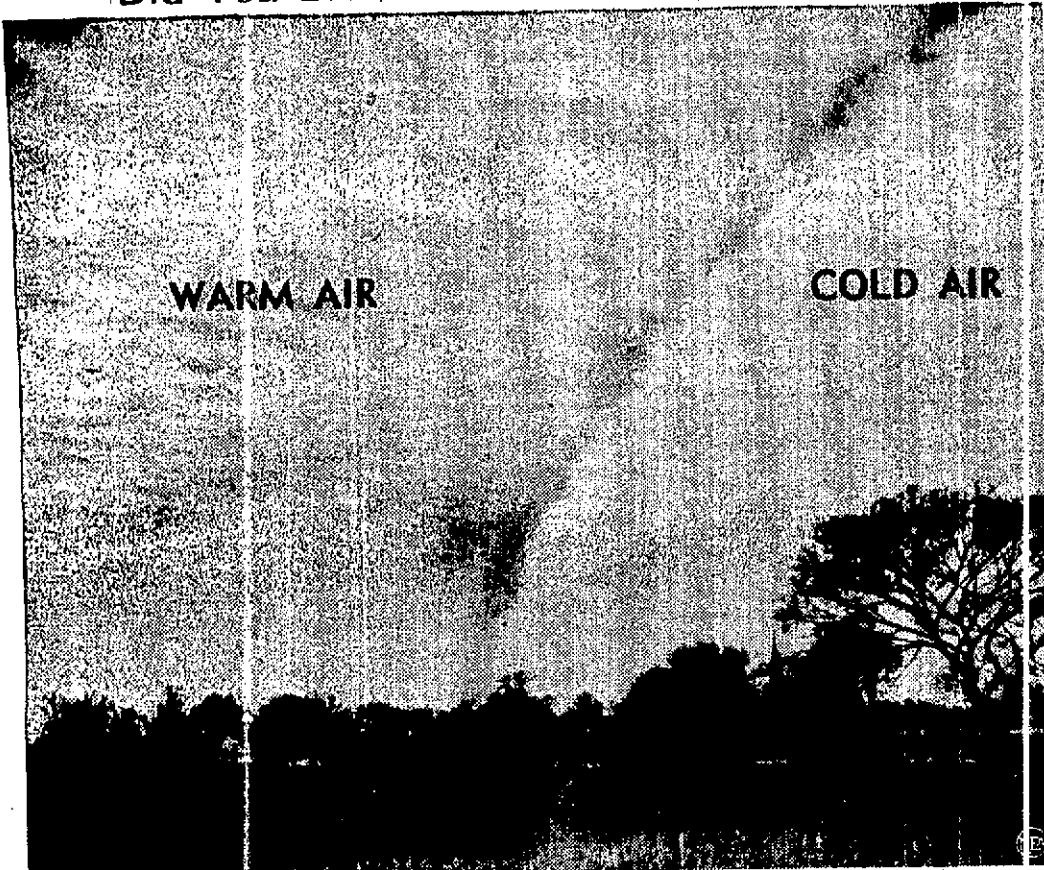

What Dr. Mark had to protect against was the possibility that West had only one spade, so at this point he led the deuce of spades. West played the nine and the three-spot was played from dummy.

Now you can see East's predicament. If he overtook his partner's nine-spot with the ten, he would have to lead a spade back and it would create a tenace position for Dr. Mark. All East could do was to let West hold the trick with the nine-spot. West had to lead back a diamond, and this let "Doc" sluff in one hand and ruff in the other, giving him his contract.

Did You Ever See a Cold Snap Scudding?

This remarkable picture shows a cold front chasing a warm front out of the skies. It was snapped by Indianapolis Times photographer William Oates as the cold snap moved into the city from the West. Ten thousand feet high, the mighty mass of cold air is sweeping fluffy alto cumulus clouds eastward. Moving on a long diagonal front extending to Columbus, Ohio, it brought good news to the area. In its wake, temperatures dropped and eliminated threat of more rain and further floods.

Communists Attempt Greek Assassinations on Leaders

Athens (AP)—The woes that go with being a Greek political leader are being intensified by Communist terrorists who want to put an end to their woes—and them.

Hardly a day passes that a minister doesn't receive an anonymous telephone call that goes something like this:

"You dirty fascist reactionary. You have only a few days to live. We're going to kill you. Long live Markos."

Minister of Justice Christos Ladas had several such calls before the Greek Communists celebrated May Day with his assassination.

The Greek police can't trace the calls because Athens has a modern dial system.

George Papandreou, who was prime minister at the time Greece was liberated and when the revolution of 1944 broke out, is becoming somewhat calloused to attempts and plots on his life. Already twice hand grenades have been thrown through the doors of his home, but he has escaped serious injury each time.

A few days ago the OPLA, Communist execution squad, had him scheduled for assassination at the time he would be attending the wedding of a friend. A repentant Communist, however, gave the plot away and the police arrested six persons.

Papandreou, chief of the Republican Socialist Party, is particularly despised by the Communists because he summoned British troops to quell the 1944 rebellion.

Guerrilla Chief Markos has nominated virtually every Greek political leader for extinction. He issues his sentences over his radio and demands that "comrades" in the cities carry out his orders. There is little doubt they are trying.

Farmers Need Help

Shrewsbury, England (AP)—J. K. Knowles, general secretary of the National Farmers Union, said in a speech here British farmers can reach in 1952 their target of 150 per cent of their prewar output if they get enough help from the government. He said they need new capital investment, more labor and a bigger allocation of animal feedstuffs.

Feinberg Attacks Quinn's Hunt For Big Headlines

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The Republican Senate majority last night confirmed reappointment of John F. O'Connell, chairman of the State Liquor Authority, despite Democratic attempts to reverse the action.

After the unanimous confirmation, Democratic Leader Elmer F. Quinn asked that the vote be reconsidered. He explained he had been unaware when the action was taken, that administration of the liquor authority was a "disgrace," and that O'Connell should be investigated.

Republican Leader Benjamin F. Feinberg declined to agree to reconsideration. Quinn then launched into a belated full dress attack on O'Connell. He explained he respected the chairman's personal honesty but decried the "shocking" conditions in the authority.

"Why," said Quinn, "it is common talk in New York city that you can't get a liquor license until you hire a particular law firm." He did not identify the firm.

Quinn's motion for reconsideration was defeated by a party vote, 28 to 25.

Defending his refusal to support reconsideration, Feinberg said Quinn's criticism was a "play for newspaper headlines." He added that Quinn wanted to read in the papers that "Dewey Appointee Is Sidelined."

O'Connell was reappointed last April to a new five year term by Governor Dewey. The job pays $15,000 a year.

Could Make Railroad Use Different Engines

if smoke from coal engines proved "injurious" to public health.

The measure was sponsored by Senator Seymour Halpern, a Republican, and Assemblyman Alexander Del Giorno, a Democrat, both of Queens.

Halpern and Del Giorno said smoke from coal burning locomotives caused "obnoxious conditions," particularly to populous home communities at the railroad's repair and service yards in Morris Park, Hollis and Sunnyside.

Under the proposed bill, the P.S.C. could, if the smoke were proved injurious to "public health and welfare," require replacement of coal-burning locomotives with diesel or electric engines.

Widmans Lose Putnam Positions

Carmel, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—John Widman has been dismissed as a Putnam county deputy sheriff and his wife, Annette, as county jail matron.

Widman, also a county jailer, and his wife were dropped yesterday. They had been under suspension for two other jailers after an alleged New Year's Eve drinking party in the jail.

Widman, already charged with grand larceny of jail property, was charged further yesterday with burglary of a sanding machine from a bankrupt firm in the sheriff's custody.

At White Plains, N. Y., Widman was freed yesterday in $5,000 bail on the original jail theft charge. Bail was set by state Supreme Court Justice Lee Parsons Davis.

Widman had been in jail ten days. The two other suspended jailers, William Carbone and James Lydlard, testified yesterday before a Putnam county grand jury investigating charges that Widman illegally took food and supplies from the jail. Inquiry into the alleged drinking party led to the charges.

District Attorney Fred A. Dickinson said evidence of other drinking parties by prisoners has been uncovered. He also said an escape route at the jail had existed in the past. Two more arrests in the current case are pending, he said.

As Pegler Sees It

proposed for the expense account. He gets the use of a lavish dwelling plus heat, light, repairs and all the household service he wants. It is pure fiction to pretend that the President of these days draws a line between his "personal" expenses for hospitality and those which are a burden of his office. It never has been possible to get an accounting of the Roosevelt's fabulous household costs and any question would be dismissed by the general accounting office with some raw excuse. The justification of Henry Morgenthau's week-end trips home in a coast guard plane during the war, is an example of this graft.

In addition to his lavish keep, Mr. Truman gets a yacht and two airplanes fully manned and fueled. This allowance for travel seems to be tapped only for partisan campaign trips. We can't know without seeing the books whether he sells tickets and Pullman space to his friends and to the treasury for the Secret Service men to help carry the cost although it is customary. With his background Mr. Truman would not be an extravagant tipper but easily might be more generous than Roosevelt whose porters spread the word that he tipped $5 for a trip to Hyde Park and back to Washington with a layover of several days. The porters therefore preferred to serve the ink-stained wretches of the fourth estate whose standard tip was $2 per man, each way.

It is not expected that the President of the United States should be able to retire wealthy on the savings from his salary. We pay him well with the understanding that he shall pay taxes as a painful example to the rest of us. If he doesn't leave a little over that might be his fault but, anyway, he knew the salary when he asked for the job. There is fraud in the proposal to hand him the additional raise of $50,000 in the guise of an expense account subject to no accounting. An expense account should be just that and the President and Congress tempt the lesser citizens to cheat when they get special exemptions on raises so entitled. Congressmen raised their pay $2,500 a year subject to taxation, but kicked in another $2,500 in the guise of an expense allowance which they might keep if they didn't spend it. Actually it amounts to a tax-free raise in pay in the high bracket, because few will spend it for personal expenses. On top of all this they get at least $7,500 for clerks' salaries and much of that goes to their relatives under systematic nepotism. Truman's people indicted Farnell Thomas on a charge of receiving kickbacks from his clerical help, but Truman put his wife on the payroll at $4,500 a year when he was in the Senate and admitted, as many others would, that he couldn't "get by" otherwise. Mrs. Truman seemed incapable of earning any such pay in anything like fair competition.

The United States of recent years has imitated the boastful splendors of Hitler and Stalin, but after all, the President is no God-man. A business executive who gets a house, car and driver pays a tax on a computed partial value of these perquisites as income. If he gets $50,000 a year for expenses and keeps all he doesn't spend, he must show how much actually did go for business and how much accrued to him, and pay tax on that amount. It is not only dangerous political custom but corrupt practice to invent crooked schemes for the profit of Congress and the President.

EAT WELL for Less

A LITTLE MEAT GOES A LONG WAY

Serve wide noodles smothered in mushroom meat sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here are two recipes that use very little meat to get a delicious meaty result.

Mushroom Meat Sauce With Noodles

(4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, 1/4 cup finely diced onion, 1/2 pound chopped beef, 2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup tomato puree, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 3-16 teaspoon powdered oregano, 8 ounces wide noodles.

Melt fat over moderate heat. Add garlic and cook 1 minute. Add onion and continue cooking about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add meat and continue cooking until crumbly. Stir in kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce. Add contents of can of mushrooms and tomato puree. Add salt, sugar, pepper and oregano. Bring to boil and cook sauce, covered, over low heat for about 15 minutes. Cook noodles until barely tender in boiling salted water. Drain well. Add sauce and serve immediately with grated Parmesan cheese.

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast: Orange juice, cooked whole wheat cereal, raisin toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

Lunch: Eggs poached in tomato sauce on toasted English muffins or plain toast rounds, Waldorf salad, hard candies, tea, milk.

Dinner: Mushroom meat sauce on wide noodles, mixed green and vegetable salad, crusty rolls, butter or fortified margarine, compote of stewed pears, apples, and canned prunes, cookies, coffee, milk.

Hard rolls and a salad. (Note: This makes an excellent spaghetti sauce of course.)

Meat Savories

(Makes 10 patties 2 1/2 inches in diameter)

Three tablespoons fat, 2/3 tablespoon minced onion, 1/2 pound chuck beef, veal or lamb breast or shoulder, ground, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 cup rolled oats, 1/3 cup milk, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 teaspoon bottled horseradish.

Melt 2 tablespoons fat, add on-

SHOKAN

Shokan, Jan. 17—Mrs. William Tuceling has been elected first vice-president of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Shokan Reformed Church.

A son, born January 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carle, has been named Terence. Mrs. Carle, the former Muriel DuBois of Ashokan, and baby were expected to arrive at their home on the old state road Sunday from a Kingston hospital.

There was a deal of pleasure driving on this section of the Ontario Trail Sunday afternoon. To the casual observer it appeared that more cars passed through the village than at any similar period since the deer season.

Mrs. Anthony Pastre, local storekeeper, went to Cairo Friday to spend the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Martin Lander, and family. Mr. Lander, who has a filling station in the Greene county village, is reported to be seriously ill at this time.

Callers in the village center included Oscar Crispell, Kingston man who was born and brought up near Brodhead. Oscar resides on Snyder avenue and is employed at the Buick Garage on Clinton avenue.

Earl Osterhout, a War 1 veteran who has made his home at Palenville for many years, is reported as being seriously ill in a Kingston hospital. He is the husband of the former Dorothy Every of Shokan.

The Boiceville section of the town of Olive which has experienced a remarkable growth in population and new building during the past two years, stands to become a still greater center of activity as a result of the favorable vote last week on the matter of acquiring the 34-acre Leonard Colange tract as a site for the proposed Ontario District central school. The question of why such a large acreage was sought for the project was answered at the meeting by an official who intimated that "future expansion" might justify such an investment. The school site on the one time McKeevey farm is directly across The Trail from the old LSC camp grounds of depression years; it lies, roughly speaking, between the old homestead of David Maines, a Civil War veteran, and the present big rambling barn which served as a relay stables for stage coach four-horse teams in the old days.

Petrillo Thinks Union Will Refuse Furtwaengler

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians (A.F.M.), says he believes the union will turn down an American appearance by Wilhelm Furtwaengler, German conductor.

Furtwaengler has been invited to conduct in Chicago next summer, and opponents have complained that he conducted concerts for the Nazis.

"It looks very much as if the union would turn him down," Petrillo said last night, adding that under terms of present union contracts such action would prevent the German conductor's appearance.

Petrillo made the comment after Yehudi Menuhin, American violinist, said in Rome that he had wired Petrillo in behalf of Furtwaengler. Menuhin and other supporters have said the conductor was not involved in Nazi politics.

Ahavath Israel Group Has Social Evening

Sisterhood of Congregation Ahavath Israel held a supper meeting and variety show Wednesday night at which 125 members were in attendance. A social evening of cards and mah jong followed the show.

Mrs. James Flemming as mistress of ceremonies introduced the first act of the show which was a skit, "Let's Play Gin," with the Mmes. Max Levinson, Oscar Nussbaum, Julius Kirschner and Miss Charlotte Greenwald in the cast. The second act was an impersonation of Carmen Miranda by Mrs. Max Cherrick singing "Cusanto La Gusta," and "Nanyana." The skit, "River Shannon," was played by Mrs. Joseph Kessler, Mrs. Morris Monashefsky and Miss Greenwald. Mrs. Reuben Leventhal gave her impersonation of Betty Grable singing "What Did I Do" and "It Had to Be You." A song and dance routine was given by the chorus of the Mmes. Murray Greene, F. D. Plotke, Joseph Kessler, Morris Monashefsky, William Zwick, Oscar Nussbaum and Miss Rebecca Wachtel. The finale consisted of the entire cast dancing and singing several parodies.

Mrs. George Muller, pianist, accompanied the entire show. All of the material for the skits and parodies was written by Mrs. Harry Spiegel, assisted by Mrs. Carl Spiegel and Mrs. Murray Greene. Mrs. Carl Spiegel directed the show and Mrs. Morris Monashefsky directed the dance routines. Costumes were designed by Mrs. Carl Spiegel.

The supper was planned by Mrs. David Seigel of this city and Mrs. A. Levy of Saugerties. The following members helped in the kitchen and served at the tables: the Mmes. Sam Spiegel, Samuel Mason, Moe Schwartz, Max Cherrick, Reuben Leventhal, James Flemming, Beatrice Geisenzang, Lorraine Goldfarb, Murray Greene, William Zwick, Joseph Kessler, Max Levinson, Oscar Nussbaum, Morris Monashefsky, Irving Reuben, Harry Spiegel, Carl Spiegel, Martin Spiegel and Miss Rebecca Wachtel.

Not members welcomed by the Sisterhood are the Mmes. M. Strawgate, Blanche Moak, S. Kogon, Ruth Garber, Ethel Kreppe, Samuel Schwartz, Harold Seidel and Arnold Cohn.

Good Taste Today

BUSINESS SIGNATURE

The following letter reads: "I think I should have your backing before I go any further. As a new office manager I find that it has been customary for the men clerks here to sign letters to prospective customers simply J. T. Smith. I think the initials are much too impersonal and prefer the signature spelled out. One argument I've been given is that John is too personal to send to strangers and another is that it takes too much time to sign a full signature. What is your opinion?"

I agree with you that the full name does make a more personal—also friendly—impression in writing to customers. For inter-office communications, "J.T.S." usually would be sufficient.

Second Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: We're at a complete loss as to how our wedding should dress for her second wedding. This will be a quiet one, witnessed by family and a few closest friends. Unfortunately, her first marriage was a war one and ended in divorce, but this is the bridegroom's first.

Answer: Preparations and behavior are exactly as for any simple wedding, barring bridesmaids and long white dress and white bridal veil. However, she could wear a simple white day dress with hat. (Whether or not the groom has been married before is of no importance.)

Secretary's Hat Questioned

Dear Mrs. Post: We've had an argument as to the propriety of a paid secretary wearing her hat when taking the minutes at a meeting of the board of directors. This board comprises both men and women and meets once a week. The women board members naturally keep their hats on, but the secretary is an employee of the concern.

Answer: If she comes in from outdoors for the meeting, she certainly would wear a hat. If she is a full-time secretary in a club or other organization where she more takes an hour or of to take the minutes of your particular meeting, she naturally would be without a hat.

Talks Will Begin On New Proposal

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The State Department announced today it expects to begin talks this month with Britain and France on the new proposal to let Germany keep some of the industrial plants now earmarked for reparations.

Foreign Aid Administrator Paul G. Hoffman submitted the proposals yesterday. They are reported to call for keeping at work in Germany some 150 steel and other plants. Officials said the recommendations are considerably more reasonable and the United States will press the British and French to accept them.

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott told State Department reporters that Hoffman's report does not recommend lifting the 10,700,000-ton ceiling on the steel production in Germany, which the United States, Britain and France, set in December, 1947. A stiff argument is expected from the British and French. The American idea is that European recovery will be speeded if the plants are left in Germany.

Britain and France protested vigorously last fall before agreeing to hold up the dismantling of a limited number of plants—mainly steel mills—until it was decided definitely which should be kept in operation in Germany. Sixteen other wartime foes of the Nazis also share in reparations and some are expected to object to changes which would reduce their share.

The issue has been under preliminary discussion for months, however, and for that reason officials say they expect negotiations to go more smoothly than if the Hoffman recommendations were a surprise.

30 Governors Accept

Washington, Jan. 17 (AP)—Thirty governors—including Republican Earl Warren of California and States' Rights J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina—have accepted invitations to President Truman's inauguration. While New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey—defeated Republican candidate in the fall election—has said he can't make it, six other G.O.P. governors have accepted, although some may not attend personally.

Snake Kills Hen

Sydney, Australia (AP)—A man at Gympie, Queensland, Australia, recently found one of his hens dead with the head of a small brown snake protruding from its crop. The pullet had swallowed the snake and it had forced its way through the skin of the crop. The snake was also dead.

Chimney Fire

Firemen checked a chimney fire at the home of Peter Keller on Brook street shortly before 11 a. m. today. The blaze, mostly confined to a smoke pipe which was removed and cleaned. Damage was negligible.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—A try for higher price levels all but fizzled out in the stock market today.

Leading issues were marked up briskly at the opening but that was about as far as they got. Before the session was half over, demand showed signs of fading away although gains of fractions to more than a point were still in a majority.

Activity slowed down after the opening rush of orders was taken care of.

The chemical group did better than average but on limited turn. Two points were posted for Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Dow Chemical, and Virginia-Carolina Chemical common and preferred.

American Telephone dug in for a stand after three sessions of heavy pressure. The stock sold fractionally higher most of the time.

Also ahead were Coca Cola, Kruger Co., U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Woolworth, Schenley, Commonwealth Edison, Consolidated Edison, Phelps Dodge, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman Kodak, Owens-Illinois, American Woolen, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, Milson Corp., and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Commonwealth and Southern were heavily traded off and on, including one deal of 30,000 shares at a 1/4-point gain.

Marked down a trifle were Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Consolidated Natural Gas, General Electric, Philip Morris, Radio Corp. and Gulf Oil.

Higher in the curb were Waltham Watch, Raytheon Mfg., McCord Corp., Lone Star Gas, Humble Oil, Ireole Petroleum, and American Republics. Cities Service declined.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Elizabeth Krum, 170 Clifton avenue, were held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, 296 Fair street, Monday afternoon. The Rev. J. Raymond Pontier officiated. Services were largely attended by relatives and friends and many beautiful floral tributes were sent. Burial was in the Mountain View Cemetery, Saugerties.

Villano B. Smith of Ulster Landing died early Tuesday morning at Dale's Sanitarium, Saugerties, after a long illness. He was a veteran of World War 1 and a member of Kingston Post 350, American Legion. Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jenny E. Smith, and many nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, 296 Fair street, Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Montrepose Cemetery.

Funeral services for Charles Anderson, of 41 Delaware avenue, were held on Monday at 2 p. m. from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, and were largely attended. The Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, officiated at the services and later at the graveside. Bearers were Alfred Kelly, Henry Leininger, John Bernard and James Wells. Burial was in Montrepose cemetery.

Funeral services for Col. Jacob C. R. Peabody of 171 Main street, Kingston, were held last Thursday at 3 p. m. in Harmony Grove Memorial Chapel, Salem, Mass. Religious services were conducted by a nephew of the deceased, the Rt. Rev. Malcolm E. Peabody of Syracuse, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Central New York Diocese. Many relatives and friends attended, including prominent business and professional men from the Boston area. Many large floral pieces surrounded the flag-draped casket in the chapel. Comrades from Salem Post, Spanish American War Veterans and members of the American Legion formed a guard of honor. They escorted the body to Harmony Grove Cemetery for burial. After Bishop Peabody conducted the committal, military rites were accorded by representatives of the 110th Infantry, formerly commanded by Col. Peabody. When taps were sounded the flag from the casket was folded and presented to Mrs. Peabody by the commander of the Spanish War Veterans.

John O'Reilly 4th died at an early hour this morning at his home, 1 Andrew street. Mr. O'Reilly was a lifelong resident of Kingston and was born on his grandfather's farm called "Derrynean Estate" where now stands Kingston High School. He was the first son born to John O'Reilly 3rd and Cecilia E. Murphy. Among the survivors are two sisters, Cecilia O'Reilly, wife of L. S. Miller, and Theresa O'Reilly, both of Kingston. The late Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy was his sister and Judge N. Frank O'Reilly and James T. O'Reilly were brothers. He also leaves a niece, Christobel Murphy Gemmel, wife of Donald Gemmel of Poughkeepsie; and he was the uncle of the late Mrs. John J. Bott. The funeral will be held on Thursday, January 20, from the late residence, 1 Andrew street, and at St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Friends may call at the home in the afternoon between 3 and 5 and in the evening between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Funeral of Lawrence J. Castor of 7 Washington avenue, was held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, 296 Fair street, Monday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Joseph's Church at 9:30 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John D. Simmons. The response was sung by the children's choir. Sunday the Right Rev. Monsignor Stephen P. Connelly and the Rev. John D. Simmons visited the funeral home and recited prayers for the dead. Sunday evening St. Joseph's Holy Name Society led by the vice president, Nicholas Reis, accompanied at the funeral home and assisted the Rev. James Keating in recitation of the Rosary. During the days the body remained at the funeral home there was a continual flow of friends to give condolence to the family. Many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were received and flowers were banked around the casket. Burial was in the family plot at St. Mary's Cemetery where the final absolution and blessings were given by Father Keating.

It said that the "Republican administration inherited a mess." "It has straightened out that mess, and today, the mental hygiene institutions in our state are widely recognized as the best in the nation," the statement declared.

Proposes Extension
Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—The administration today proposed a six months extension of the Republican-sponsored voluntary agreements anti-inflation law. That law expires February 28. Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee said the idea back of the proposed extension is to give Congress time to study and act on President Truman's new economic program.

Late Bulletin

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The Legislature extended today the life of the temporary commission on agriculture until February 15, 1950.

Final action on the measure came in the Assembly after Minority Leader Irwin Steingut said he had been assured that the group would submit a complete report in February on the controversial New York city milk prices.

Austin W. Erwin, Genesee Republican, promised that last night when his bill was approved by the Senate. Erwin is chairman of the temporary commission. Legislative approval of extension of the commission came in the midst of a campaign for lower retail prices for milk in New York city. City Investigation Commissioner John M. Murtagh asserts distributors can cut prices drastically.

Businessmen Say High Level Ahead

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—A "reasonably high" level of business this year was foreseen today for the nation by eight businessmen at the annual directors meeting of the Empire State Association of Commerce.

But businessmen must "get out and hustle," said Joseph V. Gregory, New Rochelle insurance dealer, and C. W. P. Atkinson, Buffalo dealer in pharmaceutical supplies. Efforts to reduce expenses must be increased, James H. Ottoway, of Endicott, president of Empire Newspapers-Radio, Inc., added.

Harold W. McGraw, New York city publisher, said that business could be expected to "level off" but that "conditions ought to be reasonably good."

William F. Strang, Rochester lawyer, predicted "some slow-up" in luxury items.

"We expect a slow but healthy return to what we call normalcy," said L. D. Carner of Lockport, secretary of the Lockport Felt Company at Newfane.

Ned R. Arnold, New York city tire dealer, and Sigurd J. Anderson, Albany businessman, also were optimistic.

Akin to Automatic Propulsion!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

When the great new Cadillac engine was in the final stages of development, a Cadillac engineer made a test run up Pike's Peak. "It felt," he said upon his return, "as if the car were moving by automatic propulsion." When you drive a 1949 Cadillac—powered by this magnificent new engine—you will understand what the engineer was talking about. The power flow is so smooth—and the supply of power so seemingly inexhaustible—that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. Owners are finding that this smooth, even, effortless flow of power does far more than increase the car's agility. It adds immeasurably to handling ease and maneuverability. It increases the confidence of the person at the wheel, and thereby makes him a better driver. And it increases the car's over-all safety to a remarkable degree. It has long been true that a search for the finest leads inevitably to Cadillac. But, today, the sign posts are marked so plainly that searching is not required. There is, literally, nowhere else to go—if you want the ultimate in motor car quality and satisfaction.

Some time ago four gypsies rented a store in Ellenville and advertised themselves as phrenologists. The scheme attracted the attention of the Ellenville police and after some investigation Sheriff Smith and County Investigator Clayton W. Vredenburg were called in by Chief of Police Richard Porter, who with Lieu-

Frank Groppe, had been investigating the group. As a result the four were arrested and charged with conspiracy, held in $100 bail each for a hearing.

Police said the gypsies had been working various "old confidence games," including the investigation of bank accounts and the telling people to draw money out of the bank and after "sleeping on it" to bring it to the gypsies.

Moe Gold Story Slated on Police Mystery Program

True Detective Mysteries program will broadcast over the Mutual network on Sunday, January 23, at 4:30 p. m. the story of Morris Guralnick, alias Moe Gold, who escaped from the Ulster county jail on July 11, last, while awaiting trial on assault charge. The program will be carried over station WKNY.

Sheriff Smith was notified to-day of the program which will present to a nationwide hook-up the story of Guralnick's escape. This program offers a reward of $1,000 for capture of the person mentioned on the program.

Guralnick, a New York character, with three others escaped from the Ulster county jail last July after slugging jail attendants. They stole a car and made good their escape but the other three were later captured and have since been prosecuted and are now serving terms of from 6½ to 15 years in prison.

Guralnick was one who was hitch-hiking; a ride toward New York in a truck when State Police stopped the car near Harriman. The others were arrested but Guralnick escaped in a hall of bullets and disappeared in the woods and has not been heard from since. He was in jail awaiting trial on an assault charge arising out of an alleged attack on a local woman at a Marlborough tap room. During the conversation with the woman he is alleged to have cut her with a knife. He disappeared after that and while police were looking for him he made several telephone calls to this area, including one to The Freeman. Later he was picked up in New York as a result of a telephone call to the manager of the Kingston theatre. When New York police attempted to arrest him he put up a battle and one of the officers charged he had been bitten by Guralnick. Guralnick was returned to the Ulster county jail to await trial. One of the prisoners was removed from jail for treatment of an infected eye and when he was taken back to jail the officers were assaulted by a trio of prisoners who had escaped from their cells.

Two of the jailers were slugged and the trio seized the keys and made their escape. Two were taken shortly after the escape, the third later but Guralnick is still at large.

North China Rule Is Falling Apart

Nanking, Jan. 18 (AP)—Nationalist north China was falling apart today, and foreign diplomats expected momentarily to be notified that the Nanking government was being dispersed for safety reasons.

An order to this effect, an authoritative foreign office source said, is being prepared. But, he added, that does not mean Nanking is being abandoned as the capital. It will remain as such as long as President Chiang Kai-shek stays here.

Neither, he said, will the Chinese Foreign Office ask foreign diplomats to pull out of the potential battleground. Instead, they will be told that the Chinese government no longer can be responsible for the safety of those who choose to remain. Almost all embassies are expected to stay on. Meanwhile, the old capital of Peiping, encircled by Red armies, is expected to fall or surrender momentarily. A newspaper published by Peiping's commander, Gen. Fu Tso-yi, hinted as much, dispatches from there said.

Nanking filled with more defending National troops as the government pulled back its forces from north of the Yangtze.

There was some discussion in foreign quarters as National troops moved into the Nanking area. Foreign owned and Chinese properties were seized as billets. Various foreign embassies, including the American, protested. One diplomat said the Chinese Foreign Office was cooperating excellent.

were also used to prove voting residence in Ulster county.

Quadrennial spring primary election held throughout Ulster county on April 6, 1948, canvassed by the Board of Elections showed: Republican high vote of 1,029; Democratic high vote 538; American Labor high vote, 8; Liberal high vote, 10.

The official fall primary election, held August 24, in the county, resulted in a Republican high vote of 942; Democratic high vote 467; American Labor high vote 23; Liberal high vote 8.

Total number of applications forwarded to the Board of Elections by the Division of Service-men's voting was 32. The total number of war applications filed directly with the Board of Elections by war voters was 9. The total number of war ballots canvassed by the Board of Elections was 41.

The total registration for the year 1948 was 61,001 of which 31,040 was male and 29,961 was female. This is an increase of 2,295 over that of the year 1947.

There were 653 applications for absentee ballots received by the Board of Elections for 1948 and 393 of these applications were received for the county of Ulster and 260 for the city of Kingston. Fifty-five applications were rejected by the Commissioners of Elections because they failed to meet the requirements of the election law.

Home-Seekers Paid $140,239 in 1948; Directors Chosen

The annual report of The Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association, Broadway and East Strand showed $140,239.33 was paid and credited to the shareholders during 1948, it was announced today.

Directors re-elected for three years at the shareholders' meeting Monday night were William B. Byrne, Frank W. Thompson and J. Allan Wood.

Officers elected at the directors' meeting following the shareholders' session were: Samuel Stern, president; Henry J. Wieber, vice-president; DeWeese W. DeWitt, executive secretary and treasurer; Charles J. Turck, and Harry L. Kirchner, assistant secretaries; Samuel H. Peyer, assistant treasurer and John B. Sterley, attorney.

It was reported that the savings share plan was adopted during the year "and has proven to be a very popular type of saving."

The Association matured four series during 1948, in the monthly installment shares, which amounted to $110,600.00.

In February of 1948 National Cash Register machines were installed. This has been a great advantage for the member as all accounts are now machine posted and the passbooks show the amount paid in and the amount of dividends credited on each account.

The Association has maintained a steady rate of dividends on their Installment Share and Income Share accounts for over a period of 15 years and although this rate has been reduced to 3 per cent on Income Shares the Association was able to increase its reserve and undivided profits during the year 1948 in the sum of $47,908.31.

The members of the Association have had the added service of Safe Deposit Box facilities which are available during business hours and until 8 p. m. on the first Monday of each month.

The Home-Seekers' Safe Deposit Corporation also held their stockholders' meeting on Jan. 17, at their offices at 10 Broadway. The following directors were elected: Samuel Stern, Frank W. Thompson, Henry J. Wieber, J. Allan Wood and John B. Sterley, after which a directors' meeting was held.

The following officers were elected: Samuel Stern, president; Frank W. Thompson, vice-president; Henry J. Wieber, 2nd vice-president; Charles J. Turck, secretary; John B. Sterley, attorney. A 3 per cent dividend was declared on the stock at this meeting.

financial report of the Home-Seekers' Safe Deposit Corporation shows a steady increase in the rental of Safe Deposit Boxes. The vault contains 473 boxes, 200 of which are rented and 273 available to the public.

receiving and for which he makes an annual accounting.

Tax experts figure the net effect on the president's income will be a gain of about $63,000 a year. They reckon he will have about $60,000 of new salary left after paying taxes—not counting the tax-free $50,000 of interest on the $47,000 he now gets to keep.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) recently said that after digging into his own pockets for necessary expenses Mr. Truman has had only about $4,200 left at the end of a year. These out-of-pocket expenses now will come from the new expense fund.

Rayburn's own salary goes up from $20,000 to $30,000 under the bill and his annual tax-free expense allowance of $2,500 as a House member will be hiked to $10,000, with no accounting for how it is spent.

Vice-President elect Barkley's pay and expenses will match Rayburn's.

President at 29

Probably the youngest president of a major industrial concern is Charles H. Percy, 29. He was just elected head of the Bell and Howell Company in Chicago, which does an $18,000,000 annual business manufacturing movie cameras. Percy started with the concern when he was 17, and worked his way up to the presidency.

Charles Ponzi, 71, Dies in Brazil in Hospital Ward

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 18 (AP)—Charles Ponzi, whose financial swindles rooked Americans a generation ago, died Saturday in a hospital charity ward. His body still lay unclaimed in a public morgue.

When death came, he was semi-paralyzed and partly blind. He was unable to move his left arm or leg. Most of the sight had gone from his right eye. He was 71.

Ponzi's colossal financial hoax was perpetrated in 1920. He promised 50 per cent returns on money within 45 days. When he finally was brought to book on charges of using the mails to defraud, federal investigators estimated he had bilked 40,000 Americans of more than $15,000,000.

He was deported from the United States to his native Italy and he came to Brazil in about 1930.

Doctors said hardened arteries and a blood clot in the brain caused his death.

Ponzi's frauds were perpetrated mainly from Boston. His gifts promises to double money within three months lured savings from widows, old maids, young men and able business men alike. Many, in and out early enough, pocketed profits from the great financial juggling act. But most were stuck. Ponzi served four years in the county jail in Plymouth.

By the time he reached Brazil, Ponzi had lost nearly all, but was not quite destitute. He made a meager living teaching English and drew a little Brazilian unemployment compensation.

The hospital ward where he died has 20 beds. At one time during his last days, he was flanked by an old man with a hacking cough and a quiet old Negro who stared most of the time at the ceiling.

Ponzi took his fall from fortune with philosophy. He still was able to chuckle when he remembered his get-rich-quick schemes.

The man who used to carry up to $20,000,000 in his pockets was called recently how he once was rolling in money—somebody else's money.

His body appeared destined for Potter's Field.

Just Another Day

Boston, Jan. 18 (AP)—This was just another business day in the social corridors of the School Street building where riot once started the day a newsboy sold papers which told Ponzi's hospital charity ward death to the street where he lived his wildest days.

There was no line waiting to buy papers.

Three Are Elected By Savings-Loan; Report Is Given

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, held at the banking house at 257 Wall street last Friday R. Frederick Chidsey, Clarence S. Rowland and Arthur H. Wicks were re-elected directors for a three-year term. The annual meeting of the directors for the organization was held on Thursday evening, February 10, at which time officers will be elected. During the past year the association lost through death one of its directors, Roy M. Sutcliffe.

The past year was one of the most prosperous years the association has experienced since its organization and assets reached a new high of over $6,000,000, for an increase during the year of $879,000. There were 358 loans made during the year for a total of $1,312,000. The average amount of each loan made during 1948 was $3,685.

Share capital increased during the year approximately $1,000,000 and since the association moved into its new banking house on Wall street assets have increased over $5,000,000.

Dividends paid during the past year were the largest in history of the association and totaled approximately $131,000. The reserve has reached an all-time high of $473,000, with over $50,000 being added to the reserve during the past year.

At the present time the association has 3,730 shareholders who are investing money in shares each month. During the past year 295 loans were insured, an increase of over 150 over the previous year.

In his annual report, E. Frank Flanagan, president, called attention to the crowded condition of the office space, which when the building was erected in 1939 was believed to be ample for many years to come. Need for additional space was recognized and the building committee was authorized to take steps to enlarge the present building which has been outgrown.

Fresh Storm Wave Strikes in West

(By The Associated Press)
Another batch of bad weather moved into storm-harassed mid-continent today.

An area from the Eastern Rockies to the Texas panhandle braced for a new wave of snow, sleet, rain and cold.

New blizzard conditions were forecast for the Dakotas, Montana, Nebraska and parts of Minnesota. Strong winds and snow hit the section today and sharp drops in temperatures were predicted for tonight. Lows of 15 to 25 below zero were forecast for North Dakota and 15 below in South Dakota and Minnesota. Freezing rain fell today from Northeastern Texas and Oklahoma northward into Southern Indiana. Sleet and snowstorms were in prospect for most of the North Central and Southwestern States.

Meanwhile, hundreds of motorists stranded by heavy snows in New Mexico were picked up by rescue trains. They left their cars in the huge drifts but highway crews were busy clearing roads in the path of the heavy fall of snow which blanketed the southern half of New Mexico.

Temperatures continued mild in the Southeastern States and in most of the Eastern States. Cooler weather was forecast for Southern California but no severe below freezing readings were expected.

Ethiopia Levies Road Tax; Plans Toll Gates

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia (AP)—Under an Imperial Proclamation just published in the Official Gazette, a road toll tax will henceforth be levied on users of Ethiopian roads traveling by automobiles, either on pleasure or business.

The new highway toll, known as the "Road Tax" Proclamation of 1948, is claimed to be necessary for "better maintenance of those roads that contribute toward the productivity of the land and the benefit of the population."

Toll must henceforth be paid for each 100 kilometers or less of road traveled. Passenger automobiles, with or without passengers, will pay the minimum rate of 25 cents for each 100 kilometers or less.

New toll gates are expected to make their appearance on the highways soon.

Senator Promises Milk Price Report

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The chairman of the Legislative Investigating Committee promises a complete report on controversial New York city milk prices "in February."

Senator Austin W. Erwin, Genesee Republican, made the statement in connection with Senate action late last night in voting to extend for another year the life of the temporary commission on agriculture. The Assembly has not acted on the proposal.

Senate approval of extension of the commission, until Feb. 15, 1950, came in the midst of a campaign for lower retail prices in New York city. City investigation Commissioner John M. Murtagh asserts distributors can cut prices drastically.

Dr. Leland Spencer, professor of marketing at the State College of Agriculture, at Cornell University, reported recently that major companies last year made a profit of about three-tenths of a cent a quart.

The Legislative Committee study into the statewide spread of milk prices has been underway since Oct. 13, 1947, under the direction of Dr. Ernest C. Young, Purdue University agricultural economist.

New York city Democrats frequently have attacked the Legislative Committee for failure to press its study more speedily. Chairman Erwin, and Republican Legislative leaders, have asserted that a comprehensive report required extensive preparation.

In pressing for further extension of the life of his committee, Erwin said Young would bring in a "complete" report.

As constituted, the committee has wide powers to investigate all aspects of agriculture. Originally passed in 1945, the bill creating the committee calls for surveys and recommendations designed to improve and make more secure agricultural conditions within the state.
